Ike Carries His Campaign Into Midwest

Truman Says Nixon, President 'Jittery' Over Poll Prospects

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Eisenhower carried his vote-Republican offensive into the Midwest today after raking the Democrats in a California foray. Former President Truman said Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon are jittery over election prospects.
Eisenhower flew to Chicago Tuesday night from San Francisco, where he blamed Democrats in Congress for preventing enactment of his proposals to "furnish" corruptly run labor unions.
The President also said Democrats have given impetus to what he called a "dangerous drift toward centralization" of government.

He was billed to make a coast-to-coast televised speech from Chicago tonight on behalf of Republican candidates for Congress.
One of Eisenhower's aims in going to California was to bring harmony back to the GOP ticket there. However, Gov. Goodwin J. Knight told newsmen "nothing has changed" to close the breach between him and Sen. William F. Knowland. Knight is seeking the Senate seat Knowland is vacating to run for the California governorship.
Truman was due in Wilmington, Del., to beat the drums for Democratic candidates.

In a speech prepared for a rally at the Delaware city, Truman scoffed at Eisenhower's talk of running a sound government.
He said, "A 'sound' government to the Republicans is the kind of government in which the President makes nice sounds while the vice president snarls."

Truman said the Eisenhower administration was responsible for heavy unemployment, record living costs, a drop in farm income, a big federal deficit, dangerous delays in defense buildup and what he called "a decay of our world position through blunder, bluster, and brinkmanship."

The former President has cautioned Democrats to run scared. But he seemed to ignore his own advice Tuesday night. He told a party dinner at New Castle, Pa., that the Nov. 4 election will bring the biggest Democratic landslide since 1932.

Truman said he had been asked if the Democrats had the jitters because Eisenhower and Nixon were on the campaign trail. It's Eisenhower and Nixon who have the jitters, the 74-year-old Democratic leader said.

Truman accused Eisenhower of having "surrendered to the Communists" in the armistice which ended fighting in Korea.
His words his content ion that he could have had agreement on the same terms years earlier.

Truman said he didn't do it because he knew the result would be to free Communist forces to apply pressures elsewhere.

Referring to the trouble in the Formosa Strait, Truman told his New Castle audience:
"We are paying the fiddler right now for doing it."
Nixon, whose stumping has taken him across the country, was bound for New England today, with stops scheduled in Hartford, Conn., Burlington, Vt., and Providence, R.I.

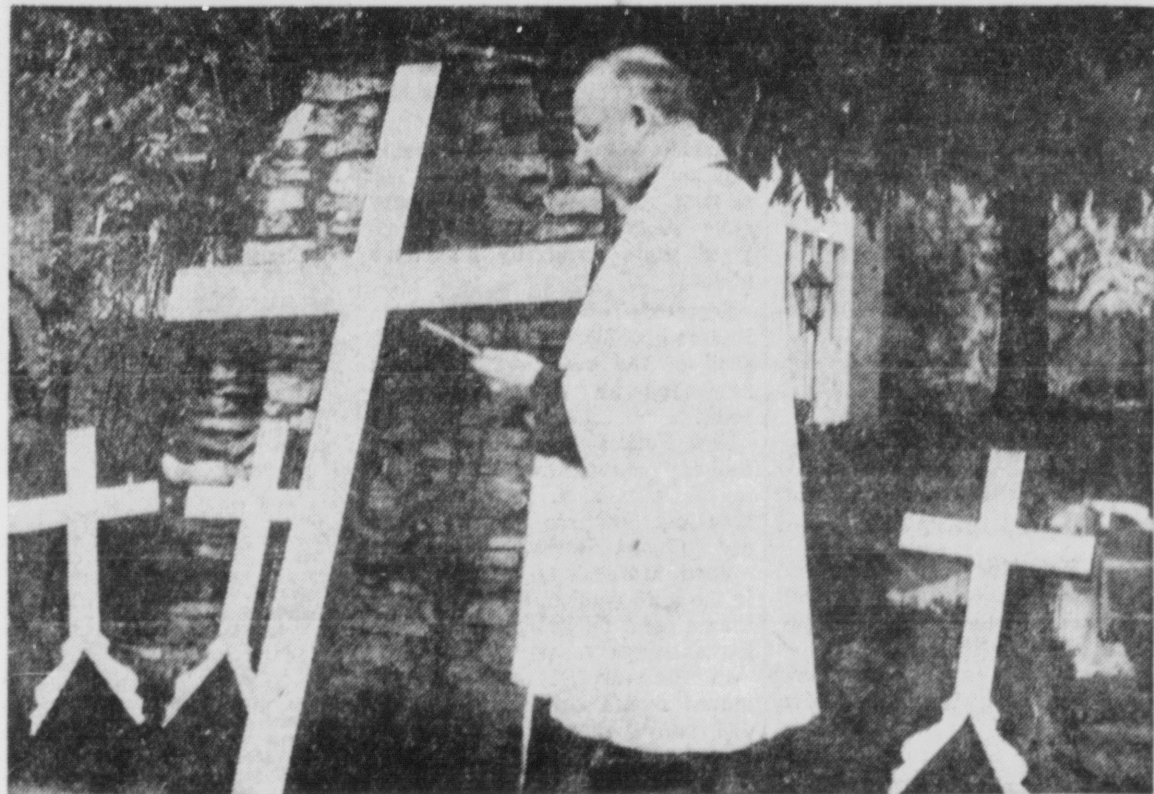

Speaking in Baltimore Tuesday night, Nixon moved to woo what he described as Democratic moderates who back Eisenhower for foreign policies. He singled out for special mention Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader.

Nixon said he distinguishes between Democrats of the Johnson type and "the leadership which presently controls the Democratic National Committee, which is radical in its approach to economic problems and... bitterly part I is in its criticism of the Eisenhower foreign policy."

A-Tripleheader Due Today on Nevada Desert

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—The first blast of a scheduled atomic tripleheader lit up the mottled, predawn sky in a brilliant yellow flash today.
The yellow gradually dissolved into a pink afterglow visible for several minutes in Las Vegas some 90 miles away.

The blast, from beneath a balloon 1,500 feet above Yucca Flat, was described by the Atomic Energy Commission as about half nominal in yield. That means it had the power of about 10,000 tons of TNT—or about half the destructive force of each of the bombs dropped on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki at the end of World War II.

New Crosses for St. Colman's Church

THE SIX CROSSES that will be placed atop the spire of St. Colman's Catholic Church here this week were blessed by the Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly, the church pastor, in a special ceremony. All of stainless steel, they will replace the old gold crosses, which were installed in 1884. The old crosses survived the tornado of 1887 and the buffeting of countless storms and remained as symbols of hope to hundreds through the years. The eight-foot tall cross will go on the top of the spire; the six smaller crosses will go on the five gables surrounding it. The steeple is 176 feet tall and is one of the highest landmarks in the city.

Record Mid-Term Vote Total Is Expected in November

WASHINGTON (AP)—Official and unofficial estimates today placed the nation's eligible voters for the Nov. 4 elections at 76,145,600. This is a record for a mid-term election.

Despite scattered reports of voter apathy, the same sources estimated the probable total vote in the 48 states at 48,131,226, including the 284,226 already officially recorded for Senate candidates in Maine Sept. 8. This also would be the highest for any non-presidential year.

The Associated Press tabulation is based on estimates gathered from state officials, party chairmen and in a few instances from veteran political writers.

It showed a gain of 1,266,454 qualified voters over the record established in the last mid-term election in 1954. However, it is about four million under the total of eligibles for the 1956 presidential election.

The estimated vote represents an increase of 3,683,730 over the previous mid-term highest vote in 1954. That total of 44,447,496 was reached by adding the top vote in each state whether for senator, governor or combined House vote.

The 1954 official vote for representatives was 42,582,927, including 22,366,386 for Democratic candidates and 20,016,809 for Republicans. The remainder went to independent and small party candidates. The largest presidential vote was more than 62 million in 1956.

The estimate of 76,145,600 eligibles for this year compares with a Census Bureau estimate of 104,600,000 "potential" voters for the coming election (civilians 21 years of age and over; 18 and over in Georgia and Kentucky). The population of the United States is 150,000,000.

O'Neill Says Ohio Union Chiefs Use Falsehoods, Intimidation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill in a statewide television address Tuesday night accused Ohio labor leaders of using false propaganda and intimidation to try to defeat at the polls the proposed constitutional amendment regulating labor contracts.
O'Neill said the threats included "two central Ohio cities" where "labor bosses threatened to direct their members to boycott the United Appeals because United Appeals leaders were supporting right-to-work."

O'Neill told newsmen he did not reveal the names of the cities because "the people who told me this are fearful they (labor leaders) would make reprisals against United Appeals for the information having been given out."

Twice during the 30-minute telecast O'Neill exhibited pamphlets he said were being distributed by labor bosses to Ohio workers. One aimed at Negroes tried to link the proposed amendment to the segregation fight in the South. The other warned that adoption of the amendment would mean lower wages and higher unemployment.

O'Neill said the information on these handbills was false and "designed to scare the worker, appeal to his fear, his prejudice and Twenty-seven states show gains over 1954 in the estimated number of persons who have registered, paid poll taxes, or otherwise have met state voting requirements for the elections Nov. 4. The biggest gains are in California, 867,000, and Iowa and North Carolina, 200,000 each.

Nine states have qualified fewer voters than in 1954, although in some instances election officials said their estimates four years ago were too high. The nine states: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Missouri, New Mexico, Ohio, South Carolina, Tennessee and West Virginia.

Estimated registrations for 12 states remained about the same as 1954.

States showing gains of 200,000 or more in estimated vote, over 1954's combined House vote, are California, Massachusetts, New York, Ohio and Texas.

'Bad' Winter Is Forecast

Old Almanac Warns: Beware Ides of March

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—It's going to be a wonderful bad winter, said the sages in the idiom of this famed Conestoga wagon country.

If you scoff at the prophecy of such a scourge, just hearken to how the Pennsylvania Dutch are getting ready for it:
They are waxing sleigh runners, combing out fur caps, stocking up on venison and shaking out the great feather beds.

It's all down in crafty black and white in the new John Baer's Almanac for 1959, out today for its 134th year as a sheet anchor of agriculture and a sturdy survivor of quaint Americana.

Baer's Almanac treats the reader to weather lore, cooking recipes, jokes and puns, gems of wisdom from the old masters, folk tales, little poems and tips on animal husbandry. It offers an engaging change of pace, foxy twists, and a mixing of old-fashioned advice with occasional concessions to modernity.

Backing up its forecast of a winter of snowstorms and cold waves, the almanac notes exultantly that it foretold the snow of last March, "the worst in the memory of living men." That storm immobilized a vast chunk of the nation for days and brought back pioneer rigors.

Rubbing it in, Baer's says watch out for the Ides of March this year too.

Pike Countian Held in Death Of Neighbor

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP)—Guy Clark, 48, of near Piketon, was found shot to death on a country road five miles southwest of here Tuesday night.

Sheriff Jesse Foster and Pike County Prosecutor Wray Bevins said they are holding Odd Woodruff, a neighbor, in connection with the shooting. No charges have been filed.

The sheriff said Mrs. Woodruff called him Tuesday night saying her husband had been drinking and had chased her and her five children from the house. Investigating, the sheriff found the body of Clark in the road, and then discovered Woodruff, apparently asleep on the front porch of his home.

Officers said Woodruff, Clark and another man had been drinking together during the evening.

Auto Thief Gets One to 20 Years

Defendant Termed 'Accomplished Liar'

A 22-year-old Hamilton man, branded by Common Pleas Judge John P. Case as "one of the most accomplished and amazing liars to appear in this court during the past five years," was sentenced to a 120-year term in the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield Tuesday evening.

The defendant, George Henson, was committed to prison after a Common Pleas Court jury had found him guilty of "purposely taking and operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent."

The jury, which got the case at 6:45 p. m. after an all-day trial, returned its verdict two hours later. It found Henson not guilty of a second indictment of a auto stealing.

Henson was accused of taking a 1951 Mercury from Don's Auto Sales here on Aug. 13.

THE JURY, of 11 women and one man, commended by the court for its intelligent conduct throughout the trial, returned the single verdict after asking the court, by note from the jury room, to explain the difference between the two charges.

After the verdict, Judge Case asked the defendant his age and when the latter said he was 22 the court pointed out he could be sentenced to the reformatory. The prisoner then said that he had lied about his age—that he was only 20.

This brought the court's reference to "an accomplished liar."

Loren P. Brackney served as foreman of the jury which was polled at the request of court-appointed defense counsel, John S. Bath, after the verdict was returned. Prosecuting Attorney Rollo M. Marchant presented the state's case.

Youth 'Likes' Fires; Sets 6 In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Police said an 18-year-old youth who told them he "likes to see fires" has admitted starting six fires on Springfield's South Side Tuesday night.

Officers booked Elsworth E. Jackson Jr. for investigation of arson and said they will file charges later.

The first fire at 11:20 p. m. hit the Potts Auto Shop and caused an estimated $10,000 damage. The next at 11:25 p. m. was discovered on the ground floor of Springfield Senior High School and damage was slight.

Within the next hour, small fires broke out in two homes and two garages. Then, after more than an hour's lapse, another garage fire was discovered. Damage in all the later fires was slight and no one was injured. Fire Chief Willard Compton reported.

Fire and police authorities plan to question young Jackson about last Friday night's $10,000 fire at David's Glove, Inc., warehouse and a $1,500 fire at a frame dwelling last Thursday.

All available policemen and firemen patrolled the general area during the early hours today.

Airliner, Jet Collide In Italy; 30 Killed

ANZIO, Italy (AP)—A British airliner and an Italian military jet collided over Anzio today.

Police said 30 persons were killed—the passengers and crew of a British European Airways Viscount. It plunged into an Italian army artillery range.

The pilot of the military plane parachuted to safety. Police said he was the only known survivor.

Route 62 Tagged As 'Major' Highway

A 60-mile stretch of Route 62 between Washington C. H. and Ripley today has been added to Ohio's major thoroughfare system.

Announcement of the designation by Gov. C. William O'Neill was made Wednesday morning by Paul M. Miller, deputy highway director of division 9, in Chillicothe.

Miller said that a 30-mile section of Route 68, between Ripley and Fayetteville, also has been added to the system.

This means these roads are now eligible for improvement with highway construction bond money provided by the people of Ohio in 1953, Miller said.

Under Ohio law the governor must approve all additions to the major thoroughfare system which consists of the most heavily traveled and most important roads in Ohio.

GOV. O'NEILL made the following statement in approving these additions:

"I believe that Route 68 has great future traffic service potential, in that it provides a suitable connection for a large area in southern Ohio and Kentucky with the Toledo Detroit area. It would also provide a desirable by-pass of Cincinnati for through traffic from North Central Kentucky to Northwestern Ohio and Michigan."

Scientist Lists Radiation Area

Deadly Cosmic Layer Star's at 600 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first space man must cruise within 600 miles of the earth or zoom more than 2,000 miles up to escape a layer of deadly cosmic radiation, a noted rocket scientist said today.

Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger of the Army Ballistic Missile Agency presented those estimates in a speech prepared for a convention of the Association of the U. S. Army.

Above 600 miles, he said, radiation is up to 10,000 times greater than it is nearer the earth, and this area can be penetrated only for limited periods.

The German-born scientist based his estimates on radio reports from the Army's Explorer satellites, none of which exceeded 2,000 miles in orbital height.

He made no mention of this month's Air Force moon rocket, shot to a height of nearly 80,000 miles. Preliminary information from that shot indicates the radiation may increase in intensity to a height of 5,000 or 6,000 miles and begin to diminish about 10,000 miles above the earth. A State University of Iowa scientist said, however, these reports were premature.

Dr. Stuhlinger said that, based on analyses of reports from the American satellites, the radiation belt may peter out at about 2,000 miles altitude. He said that if this is proven true, a space man could journey through the forbidden zone if he spent no more than an hour or so in the area.

U. S. To Try Orbiting 12-Foot Plastic Satellite Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first attempt to put an inflated plastic satellite into orbit will be made tonight, the Army announced today.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the ordnance missile command, said the sphere will be hurled into the air late tonight from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Medaris gave no further details.

If the launching is successful the satellite will be the fourth man-made object placed in orbit around the earth by the Army.

The inflated aluminum foil and plastic film balloon-like satellite will be sent aloft in a modified Jupiter-C rocket. It will be inflated automatically with nitrogen

Nationalists, Reds Continue Artillery Duel

Communists Warned American Convoy Escort May Return

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and President Chiang Kai-shek held new crisis talks today as a fierce artillery duel raged between Communist and Nationalist big guns.

On this second day of Dulles' visit, the United States warned Red China it will resume escorting supply ships to Quemoy if that becomes a military necessity. But the Reds stepped up their bombardment of the Quemoy, raining nearly 1,000 shells an hour on the offshore stronghold.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said their guns on Quemoy answered the Communist barrage but gave no figures on what AP Correspondent David Lancashire on Quemoy called a shell-for-shell return.

The Defense Ministry tally of Red shelling was 5,293 shells between noon and 6 p. m. making 8,376 rounds for the past 12 hours.

The Communists shattered their cease-fire Monday with more than 11,000 shells fired on the island.

Lancashire reported nine civilians have been killed and seven wounded during the three days of Communist shelling.

Dulles and his aides held three meetings with Chiang Tuesday, a 45-minute session this morning, and met tonight for another state dinner to be followed by talks.

The first announced result of the conference was a statement authorized by Dulles and issued by U. S. Ambassador Everett F. Drumright warning that U. S. warships may return to escort duty to Quemoy. The escorting was halted after the Reds first proclaimed a cease-fire.

There were indications the Nationalists had hoped for a stronger statement saying conveying will be resumed immediately.

The U. S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command's spokesman said no orders to resume conveying have been issued because during the 15-day cease-fire Quemoy was stockpiled with food and ammunition enough for a winter's siege.

Accused as Embezzler

TROY, Ohio (AP)—James DeWeese, Miami County prosecutor, said today embezzlement charges had been filed against 58-year-old Daniel Omer Tobias, missing clerk of the Hobart Manufacturing Co. here.

Tobias, an antique collector who is reported to have many thousands of dollars worth of antiques in his Piquette home, is accused of embezzling $375,000 from the Hobart Co. over a three-year period. He disappeared when the company called for an audit of his books Oct. 13, and police are searching for him.

Tobias was a clerk in the export department of the company for 38 years, and part of his job was to make out checks.

Since his disappearance, a police guard has been maintained at his home to prevent looting, and the company has filed court action to prevent disposal of the household goods and real estate.

Akron Girl Trips, Falls, Is Killed by Train

after the Battle of Belgrade. With the tolling of the bells, the graceful swallows, among the very best fliers in space, are due to be off for Central and South America, where the winter feeding is better. The old will show the young the way. They are believed to fly mostly over water, without stop. They have been observed as far south as Patagonia.

Spring calls them back to this picturesque mission village. It is here the swallows build their nests and raise their families.

Capistrano Swallows Set for Flight

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—For the 181st time of record, the swallows of Mission San Juan Capistrano are due to leave their summer home Thursday.

Legend has it that these North American swallows quit their nests in the mission Oct. 23, the day of St. Juan, and return March 19, St. Joseph's Day.

There may be variations either way, depending upon the weather and the leaders' inclinations. If the wing commander has a hangover or spots storm clouds to the south, he could keep the swallow squadron around a day or so.

This sort of heresy is frowned on in these quarters, however. The target days are held by some of the devout to be inviolate. They point out that San Juan and St. Joseph's Day are feastdays and that for reasons beyond the ken of mortal man the swallows use these days for their migrations from and to this historic mission, founded in 1776 by Father Junipero Serra.

There will be special masses and pageantry Thursday in the mission. Catholic schoolchildren will parade in monks' costumes and in Spanish dress to the tuneful accompaniment of mariachis. The mission bells in the Sacred Garden will toll later in observance of the death of St. John Capistrano, from whom the mission gets its name. He was born in 1386 in the village of Capistrano, Abruzzi, Italy, died Oct. 23, 1456,

Pike Countian Held in Death Of Neighbor

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP)—Guy Clark, 48, of near Piketon, was found shot to death on a country road five miles southwest of here Tuesday night.

Sheriff Jesse Foster and Pike County Prosecutor Wray Bevens said they are holding Odd Woodruff, a neighbor, in connection with the shooting. No charges have been filed.

The sheriff said Mrs. Woodruff called him Tuesday night saying her husband had been drinking and had chased her and her five children from the house. Investigating, the sheriff found the body of Clark in the road, and then discovered Woodruff, apparently asleep on the front porch of his home.

Officers said Woodruff, Clark and another man had been drinking together during the evening.

U.S., CHINA EYE CRISIS

Defendant Termed 'Accomplished Liar'

A 22-year-old Hamilton man, branded by Common Pleas Judge John P. Case as "one of the most accomplished and amazing liars to appear in this court during the past five years," was sentenced to a 1-20-year term in the Ohio reformatory at Mansfield Tuesday evening.

The defendant, George Henson, was committed to prison after a Common Pleas court jury had found him guilty of "purposely taking and operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent."

The jury, which got the case at 6:45 p. m. after an all-day trial, returned its verdict two hours later. It found Henson not guilty of a second indictment of auto stealing.

Henson was accused of taking a 1951 Mercury from Don's Auto Sales here on Aug. 13.

THE JURY, of 11 women and one man, commended by the court for its intelligent conduct throughout the trial, returned the single verdict after asking the court, by note from the jury room, to explain the difference between the two charges.

After the verdict, Judge Case asked the defendant his age and when the latter said he was 22 the court pointed out he could be sentenced to the reformatory. The prisoner then said that he had lied about his age—that he was only 20.

This brought the court's reference to "an accomplished liar." Loren P. Brackney served as foreman of the jury which was polled at the request of court-appointed defense counsel, John S. Bath, after the verdict was returned. Prosecuting Attorney Rollo M. Marchant presented the state's case.

Youth 'Likes' Fires; Sets 6 In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Police said an 18-year-old youth who told them he "likes to set fires" had admitted starting six fires on Springfield's South Side Tuesday night.

Officers booked Elsworth E. Jackson Jr. for investigation of arson and said they will file charges later.

The first fire at 11:20 p. m. hit the Potts Auto Shop and caused an estimated $10,000 damage. The next at 11:25 p. m. was discovered on the ground floor of Springfield Senior High School and damage was slight.

Within the next hour, small fires broke out in two homes and two garages. Then, after more than an hour's lapse, another garage fire was discovered. Damage in all the later fires was slight and no one was injured, Fire Chief Willard Compton reported.

Fire and police authorities plan to question young Jackson about last Friday night's $10,000 fire at David's Glove, Inc., warehouse and a $1,500 fire at a frame dwelling last Thursday.

All available policemen and firemen patrolled the general area during the early hours today.

Airliner, Jet Collide In Italy; 30 Killed

ANZIO, Italy (AP)—A British airliner and an Italian military jet collided over Anzio today.

Police said 30 persons were killed—the passengers and crew of a British European Airways Viscount. It plunged into an Italian army artillery range.

The pilot of the military plane parachuted to safety. Police said he was the only known survivor.

Route 62 Tagged As 'Major' Highway

A 60-mile stretch of Route 62 between Washington C. H. and Ripley today has been added to Ohio's major thoroughfare system.

Announcement of the designation by Gov. C. William O'Neill was made Wednesday morning by Paul M. Miller, deputy highway director, division 9, in Chillicothe.

Miller said that a 30-mile section of Route 68, between Ripley and Fayetteville, also has been added to the system.

This means these roads are now eligible for improvement with highway construction bond money provided by the people of Ohio in 1953, Miller said.

Under Ohio law the governor must approve all additions to the major thoroughfare system, which consists of the most heavily traveled and most important roads in Ohio.

GOV. O'NEILL made the following statement in approving these additions:

"I believe that Route 68 has great future traffic service potential, in that it provides a suitable connection for a large area in southern Ohio and Kentucky with the Toledo Detroit area. It would also provide a desirable by-pass of Cincinnati for through traffic from North Central Kentucky to Northwestern Ohio and Michigan."

THE ADDITION of Route 62 to the major thoroughfare system is the goal originally set by the Route 62 Assn., which was formed earlier this year. Once the association got the ball rolling, cities and communities along the route from Washington C. H. north of the Pennsylvania line began to show interest. Representatives of these communities conferred with directors of the association and took steps to expand the association.

Original objective of the Route 62 Assn. was improvement of the highway from Columbus to the Ohio River; now steps are being taken to seek its improvement all the way across the state.

John Aills, treasurer of the association, and Richard R. Willis, Jr., president, are in Alliance today for a meeting of representatives from Youngstown, Utica, Canton, Danville, Millersburg, Salem, Johnstown and other communities on the route, who are laying the groundwork for extending the association's activities north from Washington C. H.

Both Aills and Willis, as well as the other directors of the association, have said they hope the entire route in Ohio will be included in the major thoroughfare system.

The German-born scientist based his estimates on radio reports from the Army's Explorer satellites, none of which exceeded 2,000 miles in orbital height.

He made no mention of this month's Air Force moon rocket, shot to a height of nearly 80,000 miles. Preliminary information from that shot indicates the radiation may increase in intensity to a height of 5,000 or 6,000 miles and begin to diminish about 10,000 miles above the earth. A State University of Iowa scientist said, however, these reports were premature.

Dr. Stuhlinger said that, based on analyses of reports from the American satellites, the radiation belt may peter out at about 2,000 miles altitude. He said that if this is proven true, a space man could journey through the forbidden zone if he spent no more than an hour or so in the area.

U. S. To Try Orbiting 12-Foot Plastic Satellite Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first attempt to put an inflated plastic satellite into orbit will be made tonight, the Army announced today.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, chief of the ordnance missile command, said the sphere will be hurled into the air late tonight from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Medaris gave no further details.

If the launching is successful the satellite will be the fourth man-made object placed in orbit around the earth by the Army.

The inflated aluminum foil and plastic film balloon-like satellite will be sent aloft in a modified Jupiter-C rocket. It will be inflated automatically with nitrogen when hundreds of miles above the earth. Blown up to a diameter of 12 feet, it could be seen with the naked eye in the reflected sunlight of dawn and dusk.

Similar balloons have been fired aloft—with no attempt to put them into orbit—from the Wallops Island, Va., experiment station now operated by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The final stage of a slightly modified Jupiter-C will be a three-foot cylindrical case carrying the compressed balloon and a two-channel radio transmitter for tracking purposes.

The balloon will not have any instruments aboard, but scientists hope to learn something through visual observation of it.

Communists Warned American Convoy Escort May Return

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and President Chiang Kai-shek held new crisis talks today as a fierce artillery duel raged between Communist and Nationalist big guns.

On this second day of Dulles' visit, the United States warned Red China it will resume escorting supply ships to Quemoy if that becomes a military necessity. But the Reds stepped up their bombardment of the Quemoy's, raining nearly 1,000 shells an hour on the offshore stronghold.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said their guns on Quemoy answered the Communist barrage but gave no figures on what AP Correspondent David Lancashire on Quemoy called a shell-for-shell return.

The Defense Ministry tally of Red shelling was 5,293 shells between noon and 6 p. m. making 8,376 rounds for the past 12 hours.

The Communists shattered their cease-fire Monday with more than 11,000 shells fired on the island.

Lancashire reported nine civilians have been killed and seven wounded during the three days of Communist shelling.

Dulles and his aides held three meetings with Chiang Tuesday, a 45-minute session this morning, and met tonight for another state dinner to be followed by talks.

The first announced result of the conference was a statement authorized by Dulles and issued by U.S. Ambassador Everett F. Drumright warning that U.S. warships may return to escort duty to Quemoy. The escorting was halted after the Reds first proclaimed a cease-fire.

There were indications the Nationalists had hoped for a stronger statement saying conveying will be resumed immediately.

The U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command's spokesman said no orders to resume conveying have been issued because during the 15-day cease-fire Quemoy was stockpiled with food and ammunition enough for a winter's siege.

Accused as Embezzler

TROY, Ohio (AP)—James DeWeese, Miami County prosecutor, said today embezzlement charges had been filed against 58-year-old Daniel Omer Tobias, missing clerk of the Hobart Manufacturing Co. here.

Tobias, an antique collector who is reported to have many thousands of dollars worth of antiques in his Piqua home, is accused of embezzling $375,000 from the Hobart Co. over a three-year period. He disappeared when the company called for an audit of his books Oct. 13, and police are searching for him.

Tobias was a clerk in the export department of the company for 38 years, and part of his job was to make out checks.

Since his disappearance, a police guard has been maintained at his home to prevent looting, and the company has filed court action to prevent disposal of the household goods and real estate.

Akron Girl Trips, Falls, Is Killed by Train

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Racing with a Denmore High School classmate to cross tracks in front of a slow-moving freight train, Diana Mullenix, 13, tripped and fell Tuesday and was killed. The accident occurred in the Pennsylvania Railroad yard near Wilbeth Road.

after the Battle of Belgrade. With the tolling of the bells, the graceful swallows, among the very best fliers in space, are due to be off for Central and South America, where the winter feeding is better. The old will show the young the way. They are believed to fly mostly over water, without stop. They have been observed as far south as Patagonia.

Spring calls them back to this picturesque mission village. It is here the swallows build their nests and raise their families.

Capistrano Swallows Set for Flight

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP)—For the 181st time of record, the swallows of Mission San Juan Capistrano are due to leave their summer home Thursday.

Legend has it that these North American swallows quit their nests in the mission Oct. 23, the day of St. Juan, and return March 19, St. Joseph's Day.

There may be variations either way, depending upon the weather and the leaders' inclinations. If the wing commander has a hang-over or spots storm clouds to the south, he could keep the swallow squadron around a day or so.

This sort of heresy is frowned on in these quarters, however. The target days are held by some of the devout to be inviolate. They point out that San Juan and St. Joseph's Day are feastdays and that for reasons beyond the ken of mortal man the swallows use these days for their migrations, from and to this historic mission, founded in 1776 by Father Junipero Serra.

There will be special masses and pageantry Thursday in the mission. Catholic schoolchildren will parade in monks' costumes and in Spanish dress to the tune of accompaniment of mariachis. The mission bells in the Sacred Garden will toll later in observance of the death of St. John Capistrano, from whom the mission gets its name. He was born in 1386 in the village of Capistrano, Abruzzi, Italy, died Oct. 23, 1456,

Court Asked To Order Litigants To Inspect Miami Trace Records

The Miami Trace Board of Education has asked the Second District Court of Appeals to order Mrs. Jean C. Rhoad, Mrs. Martha P. Scott and Mrs. Roxanna T. Abbott to examine the school board's books and records and that the latter's petition in mandamus, filed with the appellate court on July 10, be dismissed.

The request was contained in an answer which counsel for the rural school board filed at noon Wednesday a few minutes after the district court had heard oral arguments on the board's motion to dismiss the mandamus petition on grounds that it was a sham pleading designed to delay sale of voted school bonds.

The Court of Appeals opened its regular session in the Courthouse here at 10 a. m. Wednesday, adjourning at noon after hearing oral arguments in only three of the 14 Fayette County cases now before it.

THE THREE WOMEN who are relators in the mandamus action had asked the district court in the annual state convention in Cleveland and was installed along with other officers Wednesday morning.

At the convention from Fayette County were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hynes (Hynes is a former state secretary); Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside, the present county deputies; Mr. and Mrs. Nisley; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carson and Mrs. Walter Carman.

Heading the Fayette County contingent at the convention were Mr. and Mrs. William McFadden, the county Grange delegates.

SHARING the spotlight of the convention were three young people from Fayette County, one of whom was sent by Madison County Grangers.

Miss Karen Carman attended as the Fayette County Grange princess and Max Carson as the county's prince. Dan Terhune, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune of Washington C. H. represented Madison County as its prince; he and his parents are members of the Madison County Grange because they have a farm in Madison County.

The three young people participated in a pageant Monday with the princess and princesses from the other counties and Monday night were inducted into the sixth degree at a special ceremony.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Farmer-owned cooperatives can give Ohio farmers the advantages of vertical integration of production without a sacrifice of freedom, the state Grange master believes.

Byron Frederick, elected Tuesday to an unprecedented fifth term as Grange head, discussed vertical integration of farm production in an address at the opening of the two-day, 86th annual Grange convention here Tuesday.

Vertical integration, he said, meant the combining or centralizing under one management of two or more stages of production, processing and marketing of a farm product.

This can be done, Frederick said, by the farmer working on contract for a processor, by a processor or distributor buying or renting land, providing equipment and hiring labor, or by individual farm operators getting into the processing and distribution end.

Advantages of vertical integration are in coordination of decisions toward getting a low-cost, uniform-quality product to the consumer at the right time, Frederick explained.

Delegates also heard Col. Herbert B. Eagon, director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, call for better management of water supply. Three ways of achieving this, Eagon said, were to encourage infiltration of rainfall into the soil, to end stream pollution so water can be used over and over again, and to impound surplus water for future use.

July for an order permitting them and their attorneys to examine Miami Trace records, to which they said they had been denied access, and to restrain the board from selling bonds until they had the opportunity to see the records.

Richard M. Addison, Columbus, and Miss Grace Fern Heck, Springfield, representing the board and its clerk, told the court that the records were in the court room ready for inspection by anyone and that they admitted the right of public access to them.

Paul Griffith, Columbus, representing the relators told the court that his clients' case was not a sham or frivolous pleading because at the time of filing they had been denied access to the board's books and that he is not sure when the board or its counsel might change their mind about public inspection.

After the completion of arguments on the dismissal motion, attorneys for the board presented the answer which admits that on June 25, 1958, the relators were refused permission to examine records on advice of counsel because it was then believed that the board was in litigation with the relators.

THE ANSWER says that after being advised by attorneys of the relators right to inspect the books, the board on July 16 advised each relator or individually that the records were open for inspection at any time, and that the books were open to the relators' attorneys as well.

To answer further states that since that time neither the relators nor their counsel have made any attempt to examine the books—that the records are available for consultation or copying and that they are tendered as a part of the answer for inspection.

The board then asks that the relators be ordered to examine the books, that a writ of mandamus be denied, the petition be dismissed.

Deaths, Funerals Services Friday Afternoon For Ansel W. Kirkpatrick

Services for Ansel W. Kirkpatrick, 67, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, 554 Washington Ave., which he had operated since 1948 in association with his sons.

Mr. Kirkpatrick died at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday of a heart attack. He had been in failing health for a year, but death, which came on the tenth anniversary of his purchase of the funeral home from the late Stanley Chitty, was unexpected.

He was seated on a porch at his residence adjoining the funeral home, talking with associates, when he became ill. He was dead before a physician arrived.

A NATIVE of New Holland, Mr. Kirkpatrick founded the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home and Kirk's Furniture Store in that village 45 years ago. They are still being operated by members of the family.

A licensed funeral director and embalmer since 1913, Mr. Kirkpatrick was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Order of the Eastern Star at New Holland; Scottish Rite and Shrine organizations in Columbus; the Methodist Church of New Holland; and the Elks Lodge and Rotary Club in Washington C. H.

He was a charter member of the Washington Country Club and was affiliated with the Ohio Funeral Directors Assn.

HE IS survived by his wife, Erma; three sons, Eddie of Washington C. H., and Richard and Ansel Jr., New Holland; nine grandchildren; two brothers, Joseph, of New Holland, and McKinley, Washington C. H.; a sister, Mrs. Laurel Timmons, Wilmington.

2 Americans Are Held by Cuban Rebels

HAVANA (AP) — For the second time in four months, the U.S. consulate in Santiago today sought the release of Americans kidnapped by rebels in eastern Cuba.

The American Embassy in Havana said Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith had instructed Consul Park Wollam "to take a firm position in his contact with the rebels."

Two Americans and seven Cubans were abducted from a Texaco refinery near Santiago Monday and taken to rebel hide-outs in the jungled mountains. The rebels told the Texaco manager they would be returned shortly, the embassy said.

The Americans are Charles R. Bennett, 35, the refinery supervisor of maintenance and construction, whose wife and year-old son live in Santiago; and Kenneth H. Drewes, 40, of Joliet, Ill., machine shop foreman, whose wife also lives in Santiago.

Joseph Henry Herdman
GREENFIELD — Joseph Henry Herdman, 87, of near Greenfield, died at his home at 4:25 p. m. Tuesday.

He was a native of Scioto County and a retired farmer. He was a member of the Free Will Baptist Church at Lura and the Knights of Pythias Lodge in Wheelersburg.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Henry Herdman of near Sabina; two daughters, Mrs. Thelma Crabtree of near Greenfield and Mrs. Marguerite Guest of Detroit; a step-son, Stanley Bragdon of Minford; a step-daughter, Mrs. Goldie Banks in California; 18 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Murray Funeral Home here by the Rev. Clair Emerick, pastor of the Greenfield Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the Greenfield Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p. m. Thursday.

GOP Committees Map Campaign

Strategy and increased activity for the closing days of the campaign were mapped out in general terms by members of the Fayette County Republican Central and Executive in a special meeting in the party headquarters, 146 N. Fayette St., Tuesday evening.

Otis B. Core, committee chairman who conducted the meeting, said afterward that "nothing really newsworthy" took place at the meeting although he implied that there was general agreement on plans for stepping up the campaign between now and Nov. 4 election day.

"It was mostly just a discussion," he said.

Stock Mart Developing Weaker Tone

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks developed a slightly weaker tone today after displaying a mixed trend in early dealings.

Trading slackened, although the ticker tape ran behind floor transactions briefly shortly after the opening. Losses were limited to less than a point and a few issues scored minor gains.

Steels, motors, metals, chemicals and oils mostly declined. The aircraft stocks turned reactionary after early firmness. Rails enjoyed some popularity around midday.

Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad declared the first dividend of the year and the stock responded by rising nearly a point.

New York Central and Southern Railway moved from the minus to the plus side. Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Pacific continued to show losses.

Ford Motor was a weak spot in the auto section, dropping more than a point following a disappointing earnings report.

In the aircraft group Boeing moved ahead early on a brokerage house recommendation. But was unable to maintain the gain.

There was a little firmness in special issues.

Steels were almost uniformly lower with stocks of the major companies losing less than a point.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed in a narrow range in quiet trading.

Free Enterprise Program Being Considered Here

A program may be set up by the Chamber of Commerce to explain the free enterprise system, William Stoughton, manager, said Wednesday.

Tuesday afternoon several members of the board met with Jean McPierson, manager of the Michigan-Ohio District of the Chamber of Commerce, to hear about the national program of publicizing the free enterprise system.

He said the public does not understand the free enterprise system and in general thinks that business is making a large profit. He declared the actual profit made by business is lower than the public conception.

If the board decides to setup a program to explain the free enterprise system it would be done through three committees. Stoughton said. One committee would handle business-education relations another business-community relations and the third business employer-employee relations, he explained.

Currently the Chamber in Washington C. H. is performing part of this task through several projects, Stoughton said. If the program is adapted, the present projects will be expanded, he added.

Court Asked To Order Litigants To Inspect Miami Trace Records

The Miami Trace Board of Education has asked the Second District Court of Appeals to order Mrs. Jean C. Rhoad, Mrs. Martha P. Scott and Mrs. Roxanna T. Abbott to examine the school board's books and records and that the latter's petition in mandamus, filed with the appellate court on July 10, be dismissed.

The request was contained in an answer which counsel for the rural school board filed at noon Wednesday a few minutes after the district court had heard oral arguments on the board's motion to dismiss the mandamus petition on grounds that it was a sham pleading designed to delay sale of voted school bonds.

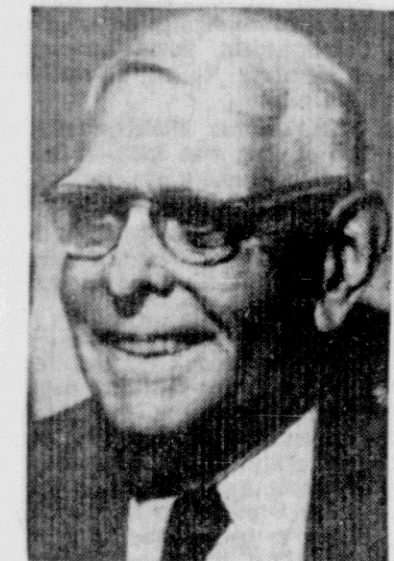

The Court of Appeals opened its regular session in the Courthouse here at 10 a. m. Wednesday, adjourning at noon after hearing oral arguments in only three of the 14 Fayette County cases now before it.

THE THREE WOMEN who are relators in the mandamus action had asked the district court in the annual state convention in Cleveland and was installed along with other officers Wednesday morning.

At the convention from Fayette County were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Hynes (Hynes is a former state secretary); Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Whiteside, the present county deputies; Mr. and Mrs. Nisley; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carson and Mrs. Walter Carman.

Heading the Fayette County contingent at the convention were Mr. and Mrs. William McFadden, the county Grange delegates.

SHARING the spotlight of the convention were three young people from Fayette County, one of whom was sent by Madison County Grangers.

Miss Karen Carman attended as the Fayette County grange princess and Max Carson as the county's prince. Dan Terhune, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune of Washington C. H. represented Madison County as its prince; he and his parents are members of the Madison County Grange because they have a farm in Madison County.

The three young people participated in a pageant Monday with the princess and princesses from the other counties and Monday night were inducted into the sixth degree at a special ceremony.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Farmer-owned cooperatives can give Ohio's farmers the advantages of vertical integration of production without a sacrifice of freedom, the state Grange master believes.

Byron Frederick, elected Tuesday to an unprecedented fifth term as Grange head, discussed vertical integration of farm production in an address at the opening of the two-day, 86th annual Grange convention here Tuesday.

Vertical integration, he said, meant the combining or centralizing under one management of two or more stages of production, processing and marketing of a farm product.

This can be done, Frederick said, by the farmer working on contract for a processor, by a processor or distributor buying or renting land, providing equipment and hiring labor, or by individual farm operators getting into the processing and distribution end.

Advantages of vertical integration are in coordination of decisions toward getting a low-cost, uniform-quality product to the consumer at the right time, Frederick explained.

Delegates also heard Col. Herbert B. Eagon, director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, call for better management of water supply. Three ways of achieving this, Eagon said, were to encourage infiltration of rainfall into the soil, to end stream pollution so water can be used over and over again, and to impound surplus water for future use.

July for an order permitting them and their attorneys to examine Miami Trace records, to which they said they had been denied access, and to restrain the board from selling bonds until they had the opportunity to see the records.

Richard M. Addison, Columbus, and Miss Grace Fern Heck, Springfield, representing the board and its clerk, told the court that the records were in the court room ready for inspection by anyone and that they admitted the right of public access to them.

Paul Griffith, Columbus, representing the relators told the court that his clients' case was not a sham or frivolous pleading because at the time of filing they had been denied access to the board's books and that he is not sure when the board or its counsel might change their mind about public inspection.

After the completion of arguments on the dismissal motion, attorneys for the board presented the answer which admits that on June 25, 1958, the relators were refused permission to examine records on advice of counsel because it was then believed that the board was in litigation with the relators.

THE ANSWER says that after being advised by attorneys of the relators right to inspect the books, the board on July 16 advised each relator or individually that the records were open for inspection at any time, and that the books were open to the relators' attorneys as well.

To answer further states that since that time neither the relators nor their counsel have made any attempt to examine the books—that the records are available for consultation or copying and that they are tendered as a part of the answer for inspection.

The board then asks that the relators be ordered to examine the books, that a writ of mandamus be denied, the petition be dismissed.

missed and that the board recover costs of the action from the relators.

The mandamus action is one of two suits which have blocked sale of the Miami Trace bond issue for construction of a high school. The other, an injunction action brought by Sam B. Marting, also is pending in the district court on appeal from the Court of Common Pleas which dismissed it as frivolous and not in good faith.

Members of the Appeals Court sitting here Wednesday are Judge Roscoe G. Hornbeck, London, presiding; Judge William C. Wiseman and Judge Calvin Crawford, both of Dayton.

2 Top Aides Suspended in Sandusky Case

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Chief Clerk Victor Moore is acting commandant of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home here today, following 30-day suspensions which trustees handed to Maj. John W. Parker, commandant, and Adjutant William K. Adams.

Francis (Pat) O'Hara, board spokesman, said Tuesday night the trustees were following a recommendation by Gov. C. William O'Neill "that we suspend the men and look into the situation during that time with an eye to dismissal."

Parker, who has headed the home since 1952, has said he will "never" resign, and has done "absolutely nothing wrong."

The home, which houses some 800 residents, 169 of them hospital patients, has been a target of criticism from veterans organizations which urged an investigation by the governor.

O'Neill said the State Highway Patrol reported to him that "food belonging to the state has been removed from the home by Trustee (Harold) Skinner and home employees for their personal use," and that "Maj. Parker did solicit money from members in the hospital and that the money was not voluntarily donated as he states."

Skinner of Toledo, a board member since 1947, resigned Tuesday at O'Neill's request. That makes two vacancies on the five-member board because no successor ever was appointed for Samuel H. Deutsch of Cleveland, who died last month.

Maj. S. B. Radcliffe, deputy patrol superintendent, submitted the patrol's report which said $600 was obtained from four wheelchair residents of the home last August to pay expenses of a convention at which Parker was host.

The money later was returned, he said.

Conviction Fails To Alter Sarge's View

FT. JACKSON, S. C. (AP) — A Purple Heart Army sergeant, convicted of mistreating recruits, says, "I still think I was right. Everyone of those trainees who testified was a problem child."

M. Sgt. George Sovie, 30, of Ogdensburg, N.Y., was convicted by a general court-martial board Tuesday of five of seven specific charges of assault and battery and recruit mistreatment.

He received a relatively light sentence—reduction one grade to sergeant first class and forfeiture of $75 a month of his pay for six months. Maximum penalty could have been 4½ years imprisonment, dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all allowances and pay.

Sovie said he hoped his next assignment would be with a combat unit. He holds a Bronze Star for action in Korea.

He was convicted of having a trainee dipped head first into a mess hall grease trap, striking and kicking other trainees, forcing two trainees to eat dollar bills, and requiring other recruits to hold heavy footlockers over their heads for up to 20 minutes.

Deaths, Funerals Services Friday Afternoon For Ansel W. Kirkpatrick

Services for Ansel W. Kirkpatrick, 67, will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home, 554 Washington Ave., which he had operated since 1948 in association with his sons.

Mr. Kirkpatrick died at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday of a heart attack. He had been in failing health for a year, but death, which came on the tenth anniversary of his purchase of the funeral home from the late Stanley Chitty, was unexpected.

He was seated on a porch at his residence adjoining the funeral home, talking with associates, when he became ill. He was dead before a physician arrived.

A NATIVE of New Holland, Mr. Kirkpatrick founded the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home and Kirk's Furniture Store in that village 45 years ago. They are still being operated by members of the family.

A licensed funeral director and embalmer since 1913, Mr. Kirkpatrick was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Order of The Eastern Star at New Holland; Scottish Rite and Shrine organizations in Columbus; the Methodist Church of New Holland; and the Elks Lodge and Rotary Club in Washington C. H.

He was a charter member of the Washington Country Club and was affiliated with the Ohio Funeral Directors Assn.

HE IS survived by his wife, Emma; three sons, Eddie of Washington C. H., and Richard and Ansel Jr., New Holland; nine grandchildren; two brothers, Joseph, of New Holland, and McKinley, Washington C. H.; a sister, Mrs. Laurel Timmons, Wilmington.

2 Americans Are Held by Cuban Rebels

HAVANA (AP) — For the second time in four months, the U.S. Consulate in Santiago today sought the release of Americans kidnapped by rebels in eastern Cuba. The American Embassy in Havana said Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith had instructed Consul Park Wollam "to take a firm position in his contact with the rebels."

Two Americans and seven Cubans were abducted from a Texaco refinery near Santiago Monday and taken to rebel hide-outs in the jungled mountains. The rebels told the Texaco manager they would be returned shortly, the embassy said.

The Americans are Charles R. Bennett, 35, the refinery supervisor of maintenance and construction, whose wife and year-old son live in Santiago; and Kenneth H. Drewes, 40, of Joliet, Ill., machine shop foreman, whose wife also lives in Santiago.

GREENFIELD — Joseph Henry Herdman, 87, of near Greenfield, died at his home at 4:25 p. m. Tuesday.

He was a native of Scioto County and a retired farmer. He was a member of the Free Will Baptist Church at Lyra and the Knights of Pythias Lodge in Wheelersburg.

He is survived by his wife; a son, Henry Herdman of near Sabina; two daughters, Mrs. Thelma Crabtree of near Greenfield and Mrs. Marguerite Guest of Detroit; a step-son, Stanley Bragdon of Minford; a step-daughter, Mrs. Goldie Banks in California; 18 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday in the Murray Funeral Home here by the Rev. Clair Emerick, pastor of the Greenfield Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in the Greenfield Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 2 p. m. Thursday.

GOP Committees Map Campaign

Strategy and increased activity for the closing days of the campaign were mapped out in general terms by members of the Fayette County Republican Central and Executive in a special meeting in the party headquarters, 146 N. Fayette St., Tuesday evening.

Otis B. Core, committee chairman who conducted the meeting, said afterward that "nothing really newsworthy" took place at the meeting although he implied that there was general agreement on plans for stepping up the campaign between now and Nov. 4 election day.

"It was mostly just a discussion," he said.

Stock Mart Developing Weaker Tone

NEW YORK (AP)—Stocks developed a slightly weaker tone today after displaying a mixed trend in early dealings.

Trading slackened, although the ticker tape ran behind floor transactions briefly shortly after the opening. Losses were limited to less than a point and a few issues scored minor gains.

Steels, motors, metals, chemicals and oils mostly declined. The aircraft stocks turned reactionary after early firmness. Rails enjoyed some popularity around midday.

Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad declared the first dividend of the year and the stock responded by rising nearly a point.

New York Central and Southern Railway moved from the minus to the plus side. Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Pacific continued to show losses.

Ford Motor was a weak spot in the auto section, dropping more than a point following a disappointing earnings report.

In the aircraft group Boeing moved ahead early on a brokerage house recommendation. But was unable to maintain the gain.

There was a little firmness in special issues. Steels were almost uniformly lower with stocks of the major companies losing less than a point. Corporate and U.S. government bonds were mixed in a narrow range in quiet trading.

Free Enterprise Program Being Considered Here

A program may be set up by the Chamber of Commerce to explain the free enterprise system, William Stoughton, manager, said Wednesday.

Tuesday afternoon several members of the board met with Jean McPrerson, manager of the Michigan-Ohio District of the Chamber of Commerce, to hear about the national program of publicizing the free enterprise system.

He said the public does not understand the free enterprise system and in general thinks that business is making a large profit. He declared the actual profit made by business is lower than the public conception.

If the board decides to setup a program to explain the free enterprise system it would be done through three committees. Stoughton said. One committee would handle business-education relations another business-community relations and the third business employer-employee relations, he explained.

Currently the Chamber in Washington C. H. is performing part of this task through several projects, Stoughton said. If the program is adapted, the present projects will be expanded, he added.

Jeffersonville High School Announces Scholastic Leaders

By VONDA HALL
Friday was the day long awaited by the students of Jeffersonville. That was the day each person learned whether or not his efforts of the last six weeks had been in vain. Many, of course, were happy to find that they had not been.

The students who were on "distinction" (having all A's) were:

Grade 12 — Janie Jordan, Carl Kesner, Sue Stephenson, Vonda Hall.

Grade 10 — Kenneth Lightle, Betty Jo Mitchell, Marsha Clark, Don Creamer, Brian Frock, Martha Haines, Carl Harlan, Barbara Jenkins.

Grade 9 — John Thomas, Charles Wright, Mike Lewis.

Those on the honor roll (having no grade lower than 'B') were:

SENIOR'S NIGHT OUT

The Seniors had looked forward to Friday for another reason. Friday night the Senior Class attended the Ice Follies in Columbus.

Everyone enjoyed the show very much.

Of course, it was rather late, or maybe I should say early Saturday morning, when they returned to Jeffersonville, but I don't think very many of them regretted the loss of sleep.

A BLESSED EVENT

If anyone has noticed a member of the faculty passing out cigars recently, don't be surprised! Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCarty are the proud parents of a daughter, Yvonne Lee, born Sunday, Oct. 5. Congratulations to them.

PTC NEWS

The PTC meeting Thursday was conducted by the president, Mrs. Lester Stephenson. The minutes of the September meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Robert Owens, and the treasurer's report was read by the treasurer, Mrs. Russell Hall.

A total of 388 members were obtained in the recent membership drive. The banner was presented by Mr. Phillips to Miss Vanniman, whose fourth grade had received the largest percentage of membership based on the number of students in the class. A box of beginning pencils was presented to Mrs. Lemley's first grade which had received the most members, regardless of percentage.

Mr. Robert Owens Jeffersonville representative on the Miami Trace Board of Education, explained the purpose of the tax levy up for vote in November.

The meeting was then turned over to Dr. R. D. Little, who was master of ceremonies for the High School Talent Show.

Mike Jenks won first place in the instrumental class with his saxophone solo, "Manhattan Serenade." Second place was won by Karen and Barbara Carman who played a piano duet, "Canadian Capers." Other entries in the instrumental class were Barbara Watson with an accordion solo, "Melody in F", and Carolyn Kay Ritenour playing "Nearer My God to Thee" with variations on the piano.

Rita Blessing won first place in the vocal class singing "Wonderbar", and Jim Wright received second singing "I Believe". John Ritenour Jr. sang "Walk Hand in Hand."

A pantomime of "Murial" done by Eleanor Moats, Sandy Land and Pat McDonald, was first choice in the miscellaneous class. Second was Donna Lovett and Virginia Williams doing the "Charleston". Others in this class were Gloria Wright and Martha Weyland pantomiming "Claudette", and Patty Wise pantomiming "Hound Dog". Judges for the talent show were the Rev. Mr. Williamson, Mrs. Mary Avey and Mrs. Martene Straley.

Refreshments were served by the first and second grade mothers.

PARTY HOP SUCCESS

We are happy to report that both the card party and the sock hop Saturday were a success. Maybe the success was due in part to the nice prizes that were donated by several of the local merchants.

Major prizes at the card party were won by Mrs. John Cannon and Mrs. Thurman Carwile. Margaret Kesner and Larry O'Call received prizes at the sock hop.

Knight Runners May Build Car

The Knight Runners, a group of boys here interested in "hot rod" cars, are seriously considering building their own club car. The problems involved in such a project were discussed at their last meeting in the club garage at 317½ S. Main St.

More plaques and jackets were ordered, courtesy cards were given out to new members and monthly dues were collected.

Buck Kelly, Glenn Depoy, Bud Long, Leroy Carter and Eddie Jones were taken in as new members. Bob Speakman was a guest. Members at the meeting were Sut Gregory, Sam Thomas, Bill Rhoads, Clarence Jones, Sonny Rittenhouse, Dick Edwards, Bob Pollard, Jack Pollard, Gene Winters, Don Anders and Darrell Martindale.

Clarence Jones, the club vice president, won the class C gas trophy at Mt. Vernon Sunday with

OKI-HI GROUPS

The Oki-Hi Campfire Girls of Rose Avenue School celebrated DeAnna White's birthday at their last meeting.

There was a short business meeting also during which the Camp Fire candy sale and Camp Fire honors were discussed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Whited.

Judge Rules Against Man In Union Fuss

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A request to enjoin a United Rubber Workers local from questioning one of its members on his stand regarding a proposal to regulate union contracts was dismissed in Summit County Common Pleas Court Tuesday.

In his petition, Samuel H. Orme, of Barberton, charged that URW Local 7 officers had threatened him with expulsion from the union and possible loss of his job if he did not make public his views on the proposed constitutional amendment.

However, he testified in a hearing before Judge Ray B. Watters that no officer or executive committee member had threatened him with loss of either his job or his union membership. Orme is a pipefitter at Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

The union had charged Orme's suit was filed "for the purpose of creating publicity to support the so-called right - to - work amendment."

Judge Watters ruled that Orme's

Jeffersonville High School Announces Scholastic Leaders

By VONDA HALL
Friday was the day long awaited by the students of Jeffersonville. That was the day each person learned whether or not his efforts of the last six weeks had been in vain. Many, of course, were happy to find that they had not been.

The students who were on "distinction" (having all A's were):
Grade 12 — Janie Jordan, Carl Kesner, Sue Stephenson, Vonda Hall.

Grade 10 — Kenneth Lightle, Betty Jo Mitchell, Marsha Clark, Don Creamer, Brian Frock, Martha Haines, Carl Harlan, Barbara Jenkins.

Grade 9 — John Thomas, Charles Wright, Mike Lewis.

Those on the honor roll (having no grade lower than 'B') were:

SENIOR'S NIGHT OUT

The Seniors had looked forward to Friday for another reason. Friday night the Senior Class attended the Ice Follies in Columbus.

Everyone enjoyed the show very much.

Of course, it was rather late, or maybe I should say early Saturday morning, when they returned to Jeffersonville, but I don't think very many of them regretted the loss of sleep.

A BLESSED EVENT

If anyone has noticed a member of the faculty passing out cigars recently, don't be surprised! Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McCarty are the proud parents of a daughter, Yvonne Lee, born Sunday, Oct. 5. Congratulations to them.

PTC NEWS

The PTC meeting Thursday was conducted by the president, Mrs. Lester Stephenson. The minutes of the September meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Robert Owens, and the treasurer's report was read by the treasurer, Mrs. Russell Hall.

A total of 388 members were obtained in the recent membership drive. The banner was presented by Mr. Phillips to Miss Vanniman, whose fourth grade had received the largest percentage of membership based on the number of students in the class. A box of beginners pencils was presented to Mrs. Lemley's first grade which had received the most members, regardless of percentage.

Mr. Robert Owens Jeffersonville representative on the Miami Trace Board of Education, explained the purpose of the tax levy up for vote in November.

The meeting was then turned over to Dr. R. D. Little, who was master of ceremonies for the High School Talent Show.

Mike Jenks won first place in the instrumental class with his saxophone solo, "Manhattan Serenade." Second place was won by Karen and Barbara Carman who played a piano duet, "Canadian Capers." Other entries in the instrumental class were Barbara Watson with an accordion solo, "Melody in F", and Carolyn Kay Ritenour playing "Nearer My God to Thee" with variations on the piano.

Rita Blessing won first place in the vocal class singing "Wonderbar", and Jim Wright received second singing "I Believe". John Ritenour Jr. sang "Walk Hand in Hand."

A pantomime of "Mural" done by Eleanor Moats, Sandy Land and Pat McDonald, was first choice in the miscellaneous class. Second was Donna Lovett and Virginia Williams doing the "Charleston". Others in this class were Gloria Wright and Martha Weyland pantomiming "Claudette", and Patty

Wise pantomiming "Hound Dog". Judges for the talent show were the Rev. Mr. Williamson, Mrs. Mary Avey and Mrs. Martene Straley.

Refreshments were served by the first and second grade mothers.

PARTY HOP SUCCESS

We are happy to report that both the card party and the sock hop Saturday were a success. Maybe the success was due in part to the nice prizes that were donated by several of the local merchants.

Major prizes at the card party were won by Mrs. John Cannon and Mrs. Thurman Carwile. Margaret Kesner and Larry O'Cuill received prizes at the sock hop.

Knight Runners May Build Car

The Knight Runners, a group of boys here interested in "hot rod" cars, are seriously considering building their own club car. The problems involved in such a project were discussed at their last meeting in the club garage at 317½ S. Main St.

More plaques and jackets were ordered, courtesy cards were given out to new members and monthly dues were collected.

Buck Kelly, Glenn Depoy, Bud Long, Leroy Carter and Eddie Jones were taken in as new members. Bob Speakman was a guest.

Members at the meeting were Sut Gregory, Sam Thomas, Bill Rhoads, Clarence Jones, Sonny Rittenhouse, Dick Edwards, Bob Pollard, Jack Pollard, Gene Winters, Don Anders and Darrell Martindale.

Clarence Jones, the club vice president, won the class C gas trophy at Mt. Vernon Sunday with

OKI-HI GROUPS

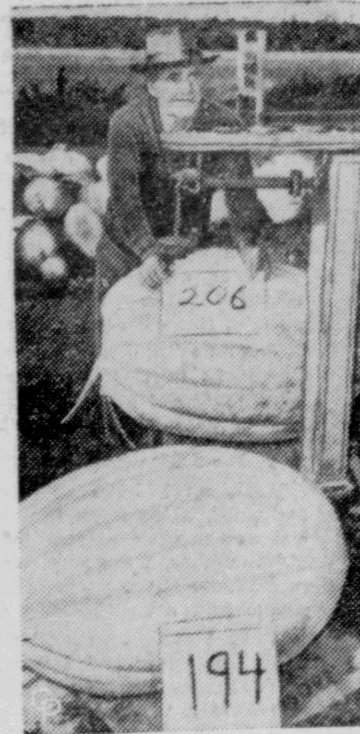

The Oki-Hi Campfire Girls of Rose Avenue School celebrated DeAnna Whited's birthday at their last meeting.

There was a short business meeting also during which the Camp Fire candy sale and Camp Fire honors were discussed.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Richard Whited.

Judge Rules Against Man In Union Fuss

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A request to enjoin a United Rubber Workers local from questioning one of its members on his stand regarding a proposal to regulate union contracts was dismissed in Summit County Common Pleas Court Tuesday.

In his petition, Samuel H. Orme, of Barberton, charged that URW Local 7 officers had threatened him with expulsion from the union and possible loss of his job if he did not make public his views on the proposed constitutional amendment.

However, he testified in a hearing before Judge Ray B. Watters that no officer or executive committee member had threatened him with loss of either his job or his union membership. Orme is a pipefitter at Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Confidence Grows with Pickup in Economy

From what can be learned from nearly all sections of the United States today, there is convincing evidence of recovery from the recent recession.

Apparently our greatest challenge for the future is to find ways and means to avoid continuous and growing troubles from inflation.

Late government reports show there were 580,000 fewer Americans without jobs during the last month than in the previous month. This upturn is about twice the average seasonal gain which means that industry is putting more and more people back to work and even adding somewhat to the average number formerly employed.

All this means that with more people earning wages, more money is being spent on goods of many types of production and will also tend toward further increases in employment. In all this there is every indication of a return of public confidence in the basic soundness of our national economy.

Reports indicate that much of the recent pickup is in automobile plants, steel mills and home appliance factories. It was to a large extent that the heaviest lags in employment were to be found in these industries.

Another significant aspect of the recent employment report is that average weekly factory pay increased 82 cents, to a new weekly pay record average of $85.17.

Even with some curtailment of the dollar's purchasing power, these figures represent a standard of living unequalled in other parts of the world. This increase is due to higher rates of pay in many industries with cost-of-living scales and increases in the work week—all due to more demand for goods.

In every part of our nation the optimistic analysis by expert observers indicates that the recession which plagued many within the past year or more, is just about ended on a new note of increased prosperity.

Get Away from It All at Sea

By Hal Boyle

ABOARD THE S.S. BRASIL AT SEA (AP)—You don't have to ride a rocket into outer space today to "get away from it all."

You can do it more comfortably and successfully by taking a cruise.

The tensions of ordinary life ashore begin to disappear as soon as the ship pulls away from the pier. You fret briefly over whether you brought the right kind of clothes. You are a bit uneasy over whether you'll get a good seat in the dining room, or a deck chair in the right location.

But in another day all these minor doubts disappear. You find out that as long as you dress sensibly and don't try to storm the dining room in a bikini, it makes little real difference what you wear or where you sit.

The sea breeze is like a benediction, cleansing your mind and soul of its accumulated land-grime and pettiness of thought and action.

The endless immensity of wave and sky has a curious double effect on you. It sobers you with a realization of how small a thing man is physically in comparison with the giant forces of nature. At the same time it lifts you spiritually, and you sense that in some wonderful way you are an eternal part of something larger than yourself. It is as if the sea had become a church.

The modern ocean-going liner is like a floating city deliberately designed to make everyone happy.

This new 25 million dollar Moore-Cornwall vessel, the largest ever built for the South American trade, is a good example of why hundreds of thousands of travelers still prefer to sail the ocean rather than skip over it by plane. They cling to the theory that the real enjoyment of a journey lies in the going—not just the getting there.

So this two-block-long vessel was designed to wall out worries and wall in as many comforts as possible. The Brasil is a miniature metropolis, air-conditioned throughout—so you can pick your own climate.

It has all-outside cabins with piped in music. It has a library, a movie with the latest Hollywood films, a gymnasium, a card room, a night club, a beauty parlor, a barber shop, a hospital and rooms in which you can learn the cha-cha or study a foreign language. It carries two ministers.

There is something to appeal to all members of the family. There are two swimming pools, one for adults, one for children. The kids have a special playroom and a wired in play space on deck with a slide and sand box. The teenagers also have their own entertainment room, equipped with a juke box and a soda fountain.

A room that pleasantly surprised many of the grownup passengers is a bar lounge in which a rye and water costs 20 cents, bourbon on the rocks 25 cents, scotch and soda 30 cents. Imported beer costs 30 cents a bottle.

"Everybody is drinking as if he were afraid it would go out of style," said one wag, pointing out that it was inevitable since a chocolate nut sundae cost 35 cents—"and nobody can afford ice cream."

But after becoming convinced the ship wouldn't run dry, even the serious drinkers have settled down to their normal intake.

Southward we plough under serene skies by day, through tropical waters phosphorescent by night. Nobody troubles about the hydrogen bomb, there are no political speeches to listen to, and who misses television when he can look up at the stars?

There is a phone in the room, but it doesn't ring. There are no traffic jams, no parking problems, no trains to catch, and to the best of my knowledge no one aboard ship has been hit by a taxicab.

Peace in a wide, wide sea—it's wonderful. Sometimes I wonder how life is going with all the poorp folk's tied to the land.

But don't call to tell me. I'll call you.

The Growth of Empire

By George Sokolsky

Vice President Nixon once wrote:

"...the significant thing about the Communist empire and its growth is that this empire did not expand by traditional methods of overt military aggression, but by revolution in the Soviet Union, civil war and revolution in China, a coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia. It is true that military power in many instances was an essential ingredient for the expansion of the Communist empire through non-military means. But it is also true that the communists did not resort successfully to overt military aggression the traditional way in which empires in the past have been built."

It is so important, in any attempt to understand the age in which we live, to realize that the Soviet Universal State never employs orthodox means to accomplish usual purposes. That is what confuses so many.

For instance, there are those in banking and industry who say: "Why not deal freely with Soviet Russia? Why not deal with Red China? There's money in that!"

Unfortunately, trade with either country involves political considerations. The British had a theory, when they quickly recognized Red China, that their enormous trade in China would be restored to them.

It has not been restored.

Although they have earned some profits in Hong Kong, they have had a very tough time of it in Shanghai, Hankow and any interior city. Most of their business in such places has been taken from them. The great advantage of early recognition of the Red Chinese government has not been demonstrated.

India has discovered how perilous friendship with Red China is and most Indians are frightened by the consequences of their country having acted almost as an agent for Red China in the United Nations through Krishna Menon.

The fact of the matter is that while Menon has been speaking for Soviet Russia in the United Nations, the Communists established a base in India, in Kerala, a province containing a high percentage of unemployed intellectuals. From this base, they are impelling the Congress Party and the position of Nehru.

This is not an unusual Communist tactic and is often overlooked or even denied by non-Communists who fail to grasp that the ethics, morals, etiquettes of the two systems of life are different and contradictory. What seems terribly wrong to us is apparently right to them.

The businessman often believes that raising the standard of living of a people will drive off the Communist menace. Clarence B. Randall once put it this way:

"...standards of living are frightful in some of these (underdeveloped) countries, as low as hundred dollars per year per capita. If a country has only one hundred dollars per capita, double that and you have a terrific change in the buying power. The generations that are to follow, our grandchildren, will not hold us blameless if we permit these vast resources and these vast markets to come under the Soviet sway."

There is truth in his statement of the appalling standard of living in many of these countries, but that does not explain why in every country, the Communist party does not emerge from the masses but from the middle class and the intellectuals.

In not one single instance did a Communist success develop out of a labor union movement. This is not a proletarian movement, although Karl Marx said it would be, but then he, himself, was strictly middle class, his associate Engels was a rich manufacturer and his wife was of German aristocracy. A high standard of living does not save the world from anything, not even the excesses of a high standard of living.

More and more errors are going to be made in our judgments about the Soviet Universal State as our bankers and industrialists grow more desperate for new markets. They see great areas on the map which remain closed to them and they want them opened up. But they will not be opened up.

If Mae Tze-Tung were elected president of the Security Council of the United Nations, those areas would not be realistically opened to foreign trade and foreigners because that is not the purpose of this revolution and they do not need what we say we can offer them.

What they do need, they can now obtain within the Soviet Universal State which is an economic as well as a political unit based upon a Marxist concept of non-capitalist economies.

Nuclear Weapons Use Part of Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Nathan F. Twining said today that U.S. national policy "calls for the use of nuclear weapons in any case where such use would be advantageous to us."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff added that national strategy calls for fighting an enemy "on our terms and not on his."

Twining, in an address to the Assn. of the U.S. Army Convention cautioned the armed services against beliefs that only one military service should be built up for any particular type of war, general or limited.

Hot Packs Will Help Rheumatoid Arthritis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

PHYSICAL therapy is an important adjunct to medical treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. But to be effective, physical therapy must be carried out daily, or as frequently as directed by the physician who ordered it.

Too many patients begin such treatment in their own homes with perfectly good intentions, then gradually forget about it.

Heat Recommended

Heat, as I have previously explained, helps relax the muscles and soothes painful joints. Most doctors, I am sure, would recommend it for patients with rheumatoid arthritis.

While I cannot prescribe for individual cases, of course, I think it advisable for all of you who have a victim of this disease in the home to know how to apply heat.

I'll discuss some of the various methods of doing this, but I want to emphasize that none of them should be employed without specific instructions from your physician. If and when he does order it, maybe the following instructions will make it a little easier for you to apply.

Hot Packs Effective

Hot packs are a relatively simple and effective way of heating just about any portion of the body. Woolen cloths probably are best. Soak them thoroughly in water heated to about 120 degrees and then wring them out. Permit them to remain over the affected

Hot and Cold

Plunge hands or feet into the hot water and hold them there for 10 minutes. Then, place them in the cold water for one minute. Next, whisk them back to the hot water again, for four minutes this time. And then back to the cold water for one minute again.

You can keep up this alternating procedure for half an hour, but always remember to end it with your hands in the hot water. If the water is too hot or too cold for comfort, you can cool or warm it a bit.

This contrast bath can be performed once or twice a day.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L.B. What foods can a diabetic eat?

A. A diabetic diet varies in kind and amount with each patient.

In general, the daily diet should include a generous supply of vegetables, an egg, a dish of cereal, fruit, a pint or more of milk, a moderate amount of meat, fish, or cheese, slice of bread and a little butter.

The doctor fits the diet to the individual patient.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT

Americans last year, statistics show, spent $250 million for fishing tackle. Would have been a lot cheaper, the man at the next desk opines, just to drop down to the grocery store for a couple of cans of tuna or sardines.

A New York art dealer paid $616,000 for a modernist painting at a London auction. The price, says Zadok Dumkopf, sounds super-modern to him.

See where a wealthy youth easterner is about to collect $5 million more in inheritance. Well, HE'S all set for Christmas shopping!

Whales, according to a natural history article, have a few scattered hairs on their heads. How come no sea-story writer never referred to the big bruisers as the "bald eagles of the briny deep"?

Tillie, our titan-tressed type-writer tapper, has just confessed that she always thought those striped footballs originated in prison gridiron games.

It took more than 300 years to complete a French dictionary, we read. Guess they just couldn't find that "last word" we hear of so often.

Statistics show that Americans spend an increasing number of mil-

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is not going to be one of the most memorable political campaigns. If there's any excitement, it comes from the orators.

In this campaign there have been the usual exaggeration, the usual gas, some stumbling, and a division within the parties.

Most unusual feature: the Eisenhower administration's apparent uncertainty on what strategy to use.

In the field of exaggeration: former President Truman's crack that some of Eisenhower's advisers—"the big boys"—apparently "deliberately planned to bring this recession about."

In the gas field: the long-overworked Republican cry that a Democratic victory meant socialism. Republicans have been crying that for more than two decades.

But when they had a chance—after President Eisenhower's first victory—to try to wipe out New and Fair Deal legislation, they embraced most of it and expanded on it.

Some examples of divisions within the parties:

1. Truman took a stand against partisan attacks in the field of foreign policy right after his former secretary of state, Dean Acheson, made foreign policy a major issue. A whole swarm of Democrats followed Acheson, not Truman.

2. There's division between the conservative and more liberal Republicans and even between Republican candidates in one state. For example, take California's Gov. Goodwin Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland.

3. Truman and the Democratic national chairman, Paul Butler, not unaware of the big Northern Negro and liberal vote, castigated some of their own party, Southern Democratic supporters of public school segregation.

4. Dulles and Eisenhower seemed unsure what to do about letting foreign policy get into the campaign. At first they were in agreement with Truman on keeping it out. Dulles, in fact, said he agreed with Truman.

He even rebuked Vice President Nixon for tearing into the Democrats' handling of foreign affairs when they were in charge. Eisenhower seemed to rebuke him too. The President said: "I realize that when someone makes a charge, another individual is going to reply. I deplore that."

But Nixon wouldn't shut up or backtrack. News surveys indicated the Republicans were in for a real beating in the November elections. While Eisenhower sat at home with an above-the-strife attitude, Nixon was out campaigning hard.

It was he who was providing the campaign leadership, not Eisenhower. He made it plain he wouldn't stop talking on foreign policy. This could have meant a split between him and Eisenhower.

Faced with this prospect, both

Eisenhower and Dulles melted, switched around and gave Nixon a go-ahead.

If Eisenhower gave the appearance of being uncertain what strategy to use, he brought it on himself. On Oct. 6 he called Republican leaders to the White House to "combat complacency and apathy" among Republican voters.

After leaving Eisenhower, the leaders issued a blazing statement full of political clichés, attacking the Democrats. Because they did this right after leaving the President, some people interpreted it as meaning he blessed the statement.

It seems he didn't. On Oct. 15, asked at a news conference if he approved, Eisenhower replied: "It was not my statement, it was theirs, and I think politicians do love to make things very positive."

Confidence Grows with Pickup in Economy

From what can be learned from nearly all sections of the United States today, there is convincing evidence of recovery from the recent recession.

Apparently our greatest challenge for the future is to find ways and means to avoid continuous and growing troubles from inflation.

Late government reports show there were 580,000 fewer Americans without jobs during the last month than in the previous month. This upturn is about twice the average seasonal gain which means that industry is putting more and more people back to work and even adding somewhat to the average number formerly employed.

All this means that with more people earning wages, more money is being spent on goods of many types of production and will also tend toward further increases in employment. In all this there is every indication of a return of public confidence in the basic soundness of our national economy.

Reports indicate that much of the recent pickup is in automobile plants, steel mills and home appliance factories. It was to a large extent that the heaviest lags in employment were to be found in these industries.

Another significant aspect of the recent employment report is that average weekly factory pay increased 82 cents, to a new weekly pay record average of $85.17.

Even with some curtailment of the dollar's purchasing power, these figures represent a standard of living unequalled in other parts of the world. This increase is due to higher rates of pay in many industries with cost-of-living scales and increases in the work week—all due to more demand for goods.

In every part of our nation the optimistic analysis by expert observers indicates that the recession which plagued many within the past year or more, is just about ended on a new note of increased prosperity.

Get Away from It All at Sea

ABOARD THE S.S. BRASIL AT SEA (AP)—You don't have to ride a rocket into outer space today to "get away from it all."

You can do it more comfortably and successfully by taking a cruise.

The tensions of ordinary life ashore begin to disappear as soon as the ship pulls away from the pier. You fret briefly over whether you brought the right kind of clothes. You are a bit uneasy over whether you'll get a good seat in the dining room, or a deck chair in the right location.

But in another day all these minor doubts disappear. You find out that as long as you dress sensibly and don't try to storm the dining room in a bikini, it makes little real difference what you wear or where you sit.

The sea breeze is like a benediction, cleansing your mind and soul of its accumulated land-grime and pettiness of thought and action.

The endless immensity of wave and sky has a curious double effect on you. It sobers you with a realization of how small a thing man is physically in comparison with the giant forces of nature. At the same time it lifts you spiritually, and you sense that in some wonderful way you are an eternal part of something larger than yourself. It is as if the sea had become a church.

The modern oceangoing liner is like a floating city deliberately designed to make everyone happy. This new 25 million dollar Moore-McCormack vessel, the largest ever built for the South American trade, is a good example of why hundreds of thousands of travelers still prefer to sail the ocean rather than skip over it by plane. They cling to the theory that the real enjoyment of a journey lies in the going—not just the getting there.

So this two-block-long vessel was designed to wall out worries and wall in as many comforts as possible. The Brasil is a miniature metropolis, air-conditioned throughout—so you can pick your own climate.

It has all-outside cabins with piped in music. It has a library, a movie with the latest Hollywood films, a gymnasium, a card room, a night club, a beauty parlor, a barber shop, a hospital and rooms in which you can learn the cha-cha or study a foreign language. It carries two ministers.

There is something to appeal to all members of the family. There are two swimming pools, one for adults, one for children. The kids have a special playroom and a wired in play space on deck with a slide and sand box. The teenagers also have their own entertainment room, equipped with a juke box and a soda fountain.

A room that pleasantly surprised many of the grownup passengers is a bar lounge in which a rye and water costs 20 cents, bourbon on the rocks 25 cents, scotch and soda 30 cents. Imported beer costs 30 cents a bottle. "Everybody is drinking as if he were afraid it would go out of style," said one way, pointing out that it was inevitable since a chocolate nut sundae cost 35 cents—"and nobody can afford ice cream."

But after becoming convinced the ship wouldn't run dry, even the serious drinkers have settled down to their normal intake.

Southward we plough under serene skies by day, through tropical waters phosphorescent by night. Nobody troubles about the hydrogen bomb, there are no political speeches to listen to, and who misses television when he can look up at the stars?

There is a phone in the room, but it doesn't ring. There are no traffic jams, no parking problems, no trains to catch, and to the best of my knowledge no one aboard ship has been hit by a taxicab.

Peace in a wide, wide sea—it's wonderful. Sometimes I wonder how life is going with all the poops folk tied to the land.

But don't call to tell me. I'll call you.

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

PHYSICAL therapy is an important adjunct to medical treatment of rheumatoid arthritis. But to be effective, physical therapy must be carried out daily, or as frequently as directed by the physician who ordered it.

Too many patients begin such treatment in their own homes with perfectly good intentions, then gradually forget about it.

Heat Recommended

Heat, as I have previously explained, helps relax the muscles and soothes painful joints. Most doctors, I am sure, would recommend it for patients with rheumatoid arthritis.

While I cannot prescribe for individual cases, of course, I think it advisable for all of you who have a victim of this disease in the home to know how to apply heat.

I'll discuss some of the various methods of doing this, but I want to emphasize that none of them should be employed without specific instructions from your physician. If and when he does order it, maybe the following instructions will make it a little easier for you to apply.

Hot Packs Effective

Hot packs are a relatively simple and effective way of heating just about any portion of the body. Woolen cloths probably are best. Soak them thoroughly in water heated to about 120 degrees and then wring them out. Permit them to remain over the affected joints for 10 minutes or so and then dunk them again.

You can use hot packs once or twice a day from half an hour to 45 minutes each time.

Contrast baths are useful for stricken hands or feet. Heat some water until it is about 110 degrees. Beside the pot or pan containing this water, place another holding cold water of about 65 degrees.

Hot and Cold

Plunge hands or feet into the hot water and hold them there for 10 minutes. Then, place them in the cold water for one minute. Next, whisk them back to the hot water again, for four minutes this time. And then back to the cold water for one minute again.

You can keep up this alternating procedure for half an hour, but always remember to end it with your hands in the hot water. If the water is too hot or too cold for comfort, you can cool or warm it a bit.

This contrast bath can be performed once or twice a day.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

L.B. What foods can a diabetic eat?

A. A diabetic diet varies in kind and amount with each patient.

In general, the daily diet should include a generous supply of vegetables, an egg, a dish of cereal, fruit, a pint or more of milk, a moderate amount of meat, fish, or cheese, a slice of bread and a little butter. The doctor fits the diet to the individual patient.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT

Americans last year, statistics show, spent $250 million for fishing tackle. Would have been a lot cheaper, the man at the next desk opines, just to drop down to the grocery store for a couple of cans of tuna or sardines.

A New York art dealer paid $616,000 for a modernist painting at a London auction. The price, says Zadok Dunkopf, sounds super-modern to him.

See where a wealthy youth easterner is about to collect $5 million more in inheritance. Well, HE's all set for Christmas shopping!

Whales, according to a natural history article, have a few scattered hairs on their heads. How come no sea-story writer never referred to the big bruisers as the "bald eagles of the briny deep"?

Tillie, our titan-tressed type-writer tapper, has just confessed that she always thought those striped footballs originated in prison grid-iron games.

It took more than 300 years to complete a French dictionary, we read. Guess they just couldn't find that "last word" we hear of so often.

Statistics show that Americans spend an increasing number of mil-

Vice President Nixon once wrote:

"...the significant thing about the Communist empire and its growth is that this empire did not expand by traditional methods of overt military aggression, but by revolution in the Soviet Union, civil war and revolution in China, a coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia. It is true that military power in many instances was an essential ingredient for the expansion of the Communists empire through non-military means. But it is also true that the communists did not resort successfully to overt military aggression the traditional way in which empires in the past have been built."

It is so important, in any attempt to understand the age in which we live, to realize that the Soviet Union State never employs orthodox means to accomplish usual purposes. That is what confuses so many.

For instance, there are those in banking and industry who say: "Why not deal freely with Soviet Russia? Why not deal with Red China? There's money in that!"

Unfortunately, trade with either country involves political considerations. The British had a theory, when they quickly recognized Red China, that their enormous trade with China would be restored to them.

It has not been restored.

Although they have earned some profits in Hong Kong, they have had a very tough time of it in Shanghai, Hankow and any interior city. Most of their business in such places has been taken from them. The great advantage of early recognition of the Red Chinese government has not been demonstrated.

India has discovered how perilous friendship with Red China is and most Indians are frightened by the consequences of their country having acted almost as an agent for Red China in the United Nations through Krishna Menon.

The fact of the matter is that while Menon has been speaking for Soviet Russia in the United Nations, the Communists established a base in India, in Kerala, a province containing a high percentage of unemployed intellectuals. From this base, they are impelling the Congress Party and the position of Nehru.

This is not an unusual Communist tactic and is often overlooked or even denied by non-Communists who fail to grasp that the ethics, morals, etiquettes of the two systems of life are different and contradictory. What seems terribly wrong to us is apparently right to them.

The businessman often believes that raising the standard of living of a people will drive off the Communist menace. Clarence B. Randall once put it this way:

"...standards of living are frightful in some of these (underdeveloped) countries, as low as hundred dollars per year per capita. If a country has only one hundred dollars per capita, daubable that and you have a terrific change in the buying power. The generations that are to follow, our grandchildren, will not hold us blameless if we permit these vast resources and these vast markets to come under the Soviet sway."

There is truth in his statement of the appalling standard of living in many of these countries, but that does not explain why in every country, the Communist party does not emerge from the masses but from the middle class and the intellectuals.

In not one single instance did a Communist success develop out of a labor union movement. This is not a proletarian movement, although Karl Marx said it would, but then he, himself, was strictly middle class, his associate Engels was a rich manufacturer and his wife was of German aristocracy. A high standard of living does not save the world from anything, not even the excesses of a high standard of living.

More and more errors are going to be made in our judgments about the Soviet Universal State as our bankers and industrialists grow more desperate for new markets. They see great areas on the map which remain closed to them and they want them opened up. But they will not be opened up.

If Mae Tze-Tung were elected president of the Security Council of the United Nations, those areas would not be realistically opened to foreign trade and foreigners because that is not the purpose of this revolution and they do not need what we say we can offer them.

What they do need, they can now obtain within the Soviet Universal State which is an economic as well as a political unit based upon a Marxist concept of non-capitalist economies.

Nuclear Weapons Use Part of Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Nathan F. Twining said today that U.S. national policy "calls for the use of nuclear weapons in any case where such use would be advantageous to us."

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff added that national strategy calls for fighting an enemy "on our terms and not on his."

Twining, in an address to the Assn. of the U.S. Army Convention cautioned the armed services against beliefs that only one military service should be built up for any particular type of war, general or limited.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — This is not going to be one of the most memorable political campaigns. If there's any excitement, it comes from the orators.

In this campaign there have been the usual exaggeration, the usual gas, some stumbling, and a division within the parties.

Most unusual feature: the Eisenhower administration's apparent uncertainty on what strategy to use.

In the field of exaggeration: former President Truman's crack that some of Eisenhower's advisers—"the big boys"—apparently "deliberately planned to bring this recession about."

In the gas field: the long-overworked Republican cry that a Democratic victory meant socialism. Republicans have been crying that for more than two decades.

But when they had a chance—after President Eisenhower's first victory—to try to wipe out New and Fair Deal legislation, they embraced most of it and expanded on it.

Some examples of divisions within the parties:

1. Truman took a stand against partisan attacks in the field of foreign policy right after his former secretary of state, Dean Acheson, made foreign policy a major issue. A whole swarm of Democrats followed Acheson, not Truman.

2. There's division between the conservative and more liberal Republicans and even between Republican candidates in one state. For example, take California's Gov. Goodwin Knight and Sen. William F. Knowland.

3. Truman and the Democratic national chairman, Paul Butler, not unaware of the big Northern Negro and liberal vote, castigated some of their own party, Southern Democratic supporters of public school segregation.

4. Dulles and Eisenhower seemed unsure what to do about letting foreign policy get into the campaign. At first they were in agreement with Truman on keeping it out. Dulles, in fact, said he agreed with Truman.

He even rebuked Vice President Nixon for tearing into the Democrats' handling of foreign affairs when they were in charge. Eisenhower seemed to rebuke him too. The President said: "I realize that when someone makes a charge, another individual is going to reply. I deplore that."

But Nixon wouldn't shut up or backtrack. News surveys indicated the Republicans were in for a real beating in the November elections. While Eisenhower sat at home with an above-the-strife attitude, Nixon was out campaigning hard.

It was he who was providing the campaign leadership, not Eisenhower. He made it plain he wouldn't stop talking on foreign policy. This could have meant a split between him and Eisenhower.

Faced with this prospect, both

Plans Pushed for New Freeway System

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles on Ohio's Interstate Freeways, one of which — the Cincinnati - Conneaut highway — will pass through Fayette County over a route yet to be exactly determined. Other installments of this series will appear later.

- Cincinnati to Conneaut: 326 miles.
- Cincinnati to Toledo: 213 miles.
- Richmond, Ind., to Wheeling, W. Va.: 230 miles.
- Cleveland to Marietta: 175 miles.
- Toledo to Conneaut: 250 miles.
- Toledo to Youngstown: 270 miles.
- Cleveland to Youngstown: 60 miles.

That's the great new grid of Interstate freeways to carry Ohio's drivers north and south, east and west . . . out-of-state drivers into and across a state which is one of the most important cross-roads of the nation . . .

...Rapidly . . . without lights or red stop signs following the most direct routes . . .

...Safely . . . without grade crossings — either for railroads or intersecting roads . . . four to six lanes, with paved shoulders and provision for expansion later as traffic demands . . . acceleration and deceleration lanes . . . wide median strips to prevent head-on collisions . . . Comfortably . . . built for smooth riding . . . easy driving . . .

THAT'S THE GREAT new grid which will tie Ohio's industry, agriculture, and life more firmly to the East, the Midwest, the South, and the Far West as a key part of the 40,000-mile, $40 billion national Interstate highway network.

That's the great new grid which will enable Ohio to take fullest advantage of the St. Lawrence Seaway by putting every factory and business in the state only short hours distant from ocean-going shipping at Ohio's Lake Erie ports.

It's a grid of 1,500 miles in this state alone — including two sections, totaling 174 miles, of the already built 241-mile Ohio Turnpike.

Of the remainder, nearly 300 miles are under construction now. Two long sections paralleling and tying into the present U. S. 40, one of 30 miles in Montgomery and Clark counties in Western Ohio, the other of 20 miles in Licking County east of Columbus, are all but complete and ready for traffic.

AND THERE'S the all-new Cincinnati-Conneaut Freeway, over 150 miles of which are already under way including a 102-mile continuous stretch of super highway from Columbus to Medina.

Ohio thus has become one of the first states to put a substantial part of the system into service. The whole project, as now outlined, is scheduled for completion by 1972.

As big as the program — is the biggest single public works project in Ohio's history — the work to date still represents only a third of the over-all effort, as measured by miles under construction, by the Ohio Department of Highways. As part of an effort to make the whole state highway system an integrated unit with the Interstate System — each feeding and supporting the other — more than 600 miles of non-Interstate construction was let in the 1957-58 biennium. In addition, more than 5,000 miles of resurfacing was ordered to extend the life of the existing roads.

THE INTERSTATE highway program in Ohio is expected to cost $2.3 billion, of which nearly $1.9 billion comes from federal funds — a return to the Ohio motorist of his federal taxes on gasoline, tires, accessories, and motor vehicles.

The program started in July 1956, when Congress approved legislation to finance the 40,000 mile Interstate and Defense Highway system connecting more than 200 cities throughout the nation.

"The Ohio Department of Highways for years had been looking ahead to the future needs of our state," commented Charles M. Noble, state highway Director, "and we knew in general what should be done. The national program gave us the chance to put our ideas into concrete form."

"We were, in effect, given the go-ahead on things we long wanted to do. It fell to the present personnel of the state administration and Department of Highways to get going — to do it — and to develop new plans and programs on the basis of new information, new needs, and new circumstances."

Consecration Booked For Bishop-Elect

CLEVELAND (AP)—Consecration ceremonies will be held in St. John's Cathedral here Tuesday for bishop-elect Paul T. Hallinan, who will be installed as bishop of Charleston, S. C. on Nov. 25. Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, will be the consecrating prelate.

Big Fencing Job

Any farmer who has stretched fence around his pasture will appreciate this:

Enough No. 9 fence to reach from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific along the U. S.-Canadian border is going to be needed to fence off the right-of-way of the 1,500-mile Interstate Highway system in Ohio.

This fence will keep valuable farm stock from wandering out on the high-speed roads to endanger the lives of motorists.

Ed Sullivan Plans Making Film in India

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Sullivan plans to go to India late in January to film a one-hour television program, to be shown on the CBS network.

He will use Indian talent, including dancers, singers and instrumentalists.

The TV producer and host leaves here Wednesday for another trip to Alaska, where he is recording a television show for presentation from here Dec. 7.

Plans Pushed for New Freeway System

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles on Ohio's Interstate Freeways, one of which — the Cincinnati - Conneaut highway — will pass through Fayette County over a route yet to be exactly determined. Other installments of this series will appear later.

- Cincinnati to Conneaut: 326 miles.
- Cincinnati to Toledo: 213 miles.
- Richmond, Ind., to Wheeling, W. Va.: 230 miles.
- Cleveland to Marietta: 175 miles.
- Toledo to Conneaut: 250 miles.
- Toledo to Youngstown: 270 miles.
- Cleveland to Youngstown: 60 miles.

That's the great new grid of Interstate freeways to carry Ohio's drivers north and south, east and west . . . out-of-state drivers into and across a state which is one of the most important cross-roads of the nation . . .

—Rapidly . . . without lights or red stop signs following the most direct routes . . .

—Safely . . . without grade crossings — either for railroads or intersecting roads . . . four to six lanes, with paved shoulders and provision for expansion later as traffic demands . . . acceleration and deceleration lanes . . . wide median strips to prevent head-on collisions . . . Comfortably . . . built for smooth riding . . . easy driving . . .

THAT'S THE GREAT new grid which will tie Ohio's industry, agriculture, and life more firmly to the East, the Midwest, the South, and the Far West as a key part of the 40,000-mile, $40 billion national Interstate highway network.

That's the great new grid which will enable Ohio to take fullest advantage of the St. Lawrence Seaway by putting every factory and business in the state only short hours distant from ocean-going shipping at Ohio's Lake Erie ports.

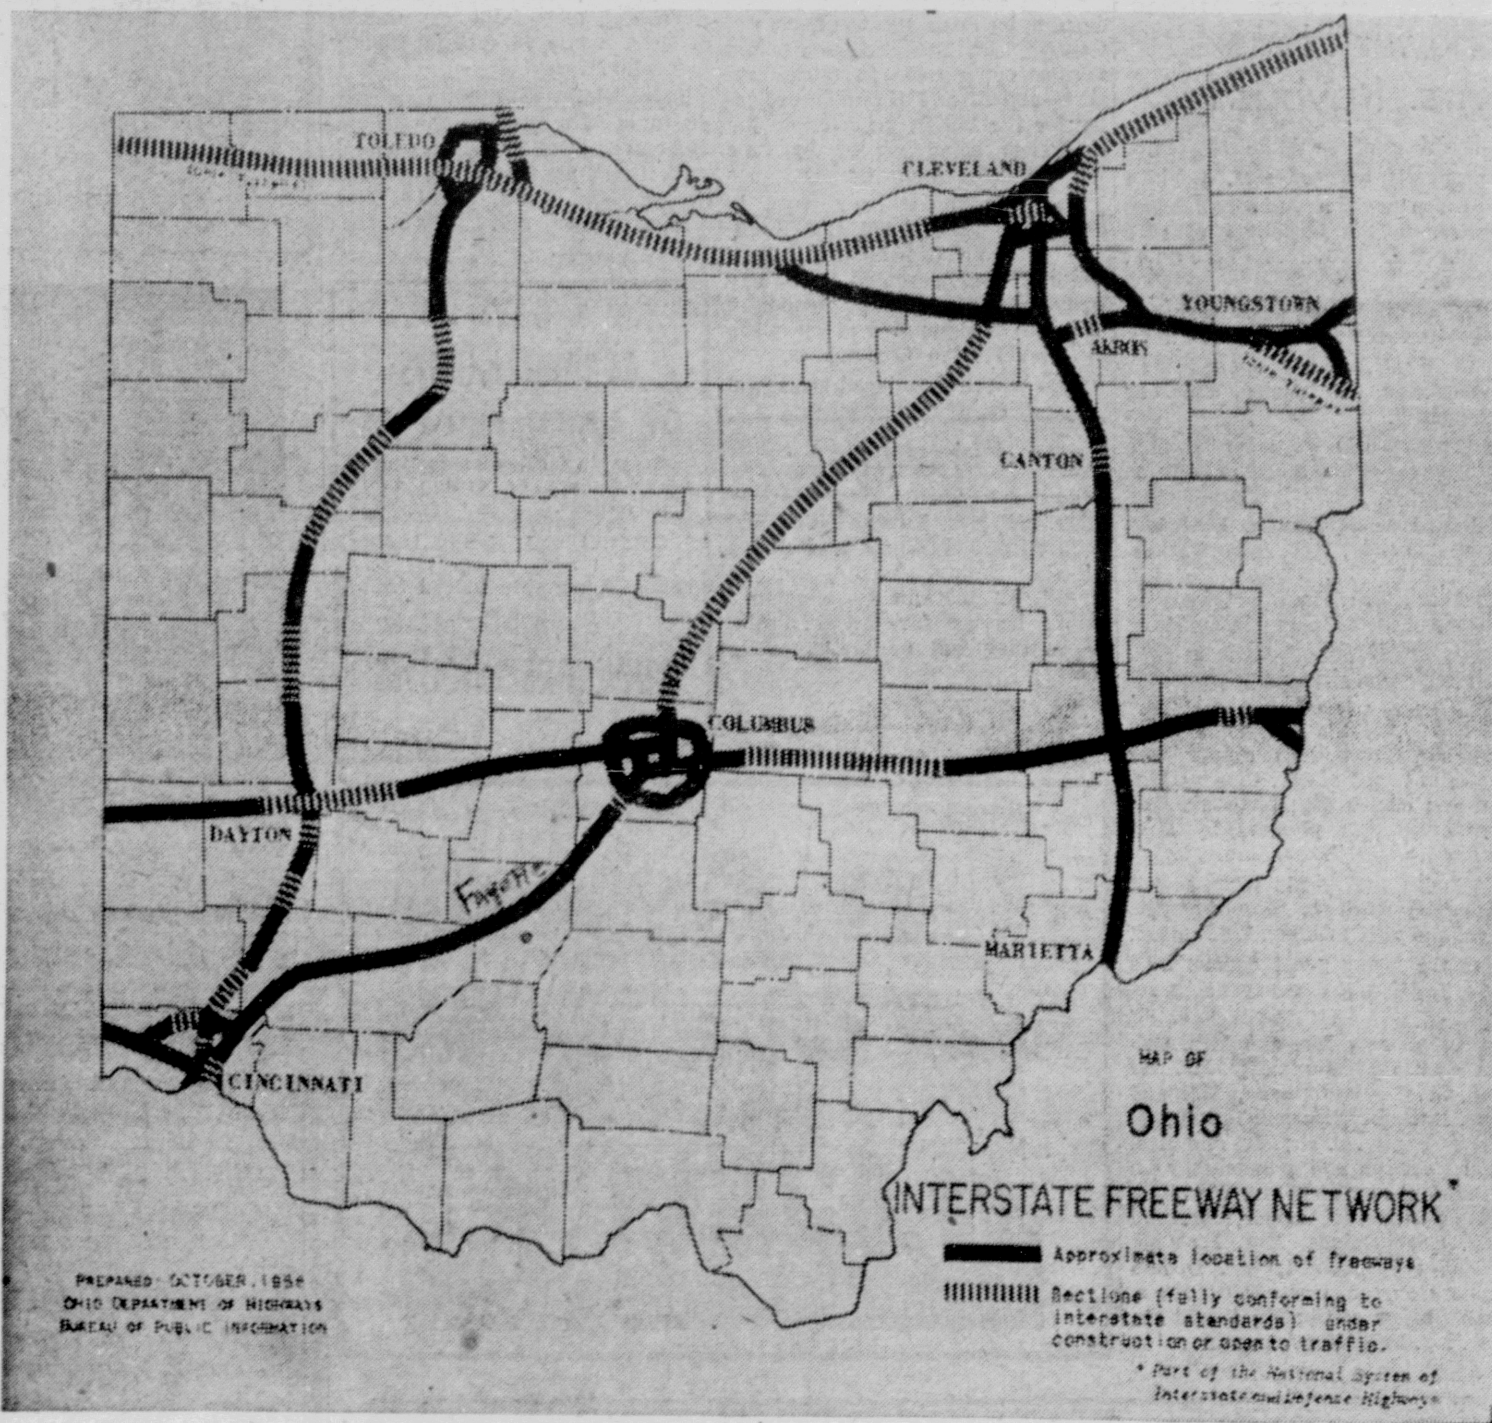

It's a grid of 1,500 miles in this state alone — including two sections, totaling 174 miles, of the already built 241-mile Ohio Turnpike.

Of the remainder, nearly 300 miles are under construction now. Two long sections paralleling and tying into the present U. S. 40, one of 30 miles in Montgomery and Clark counties in Western Ohio, the other of 20 miles in Licking County east of Columbus, are all but complete and ready for traffic.

AND THERE'S the all-new Cincinnati-Conneaut Freeway, over 150 miles of which are already under way including a 102-mile continuous stretch of super highway from Columbus to Medina.

Ohio thus has become one of the first states to put a substantial part of the system into service. The whole project, as now outlined, is scheduled for completion by 1972.

Mrs. Kibler Hostess For Regular Meeting

Marilee Garden Club held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. O. C. Kibler Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. O. E. Harper, vice president, conducted the business session in the absence of the president, Mrs. Clarence Thomas. Mrs. Harper opened the session with reading the poem "The Corn Song," by John Greenleaf Whittier, and commented on the poems "October's Bright Blue Weather" and "The Last Leaf."

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Glenn Smith. Each member is to give a dollar to the treasurer on her birthday.

Mrs. Harper announced several meetings of interest to members. The book entitled "Succulents Cacti," has been presented to the Washington Library by the club. Roll call was answered by naming ferns.

Mrs. Herbert Rothrock, program chairman, chose "Fern Plants Past and Present," for her topic. She showed an arrangement of dry material and fern. The arrangement will be put on display in the Public Library.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John Kneisley. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lucy Yerian in serving seasonal refreshments to 13 members and one guest.

Exchange of bulbs closed the afternoon's activities.

BOLD BLACK and white striped tweed is used for a casual country coat from the Davidow fall collection.

Potluck Supper Enjoyed By Baptist Women

The Ann Judson Circle was hostess to the Women's Missionary Society, of the First Baptist Church for a potluck supper in the church dining room Tuesday evening.

The members were seated at small tables centered with fall flowers. A horn of plenty filled with fruit centered the head table.

Invocation was given by Mrs. Walter McLean.

"Mountain's of the Lord," was the topic chosen by Mrs. John Todd, devotional leader. The Lord's prayer closed this period.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Toy McQuigg, whose topic was "In as Much." Mrs. McQuigg told about the home missions and the work being done by the Baptist missionaries in the 49th state of Alaska.

Mrs. Robert Hurtt will be vice president of Christian training for the remainder of the year.

The new treasurer will be Miss Bertha Graves.

Women of the church will meet at 10 a. m. on Oct. 29 to roll bandages for overseas missions. A sack lunch will be held at noon.

Mrs. John Case closed the meeting with prayer.

Dinner Dance Held Tuesday By Lions Club

The Washington C. H. Lion's Club was host to 115 members and guests for a dinner dance Tuesday evening in the Country Club.

The club was gaily decorated in the traditional Halloween fashion.

Mr. Grover Baber and the B-Nine-Teens presented a very delightful musical program. The girl's selections included "And This Is My Beloved," "Stranger in Paradise," "I've Never Been in Love Before" and "Go, Night My Someone." Mr. Baber sang "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody" and "I've Got You under My Skin."

The music of Bob Olinger at the organ and Carl Will's orchestra set the pace for round and square dancing, which was enjoyed the remainder of the evening.

The affair was planned by a committee headed by Dr. C. R. Griffiths.

White Oak Grove MYF To Collect For UNCEF

On Oct. 28 the White Oak Grove Methodist Youth Fellowship will be out ringing door bells for the United Nations Children's Emergency Fund. This was decided at its regular meeting in the church basement.

The devotional period was opened with the "Call to Worship" by Ricky Smalley. Nina Roehm gave a story on Faith. She was assisted by the group.

Miss Roehm, president, conducted the business session. Roll call was answered by naming the characters of the Bible.

Final plans for the Halloween Party to be held Saturday night were made. Pecans will be sold this year by the MYF.

The group plans to participate in the Church-wide rally day to be held Nov. 3.

Plans for a youth choir are still being discussed, but no definite decisions have been reached.

A recreation period followed and serving of refreshments brought the evening to a close.

Mrs. Bryant Hostess To Willing Workers

Mrs. John Bryant was hostess to the Willing Workers Circle of Sugar Grove Methodist Church for its October meeting.

Mrs. Norman Merritt conducted the business session which was opened with prayer by Mrs. Ronald Stephens.

"Sin" was Mrs. Wesley Thatcher's topic for the devotional period. Mrs. Thatcher was assisted by several members reading from the Scriptures. Prayer closed this period.

Shower Honors Mrs. Rayburn

Members of the White Oak Grove community honored Mrs. Jackie Rayburn with a miscellaneous shower in the basement of the White Oak Grove Methodist Church.

Gifts were placed on an L shaped table decorated with fall flowers.

As Mrs. Rayburn opened her lovely gifts, she thanked each one graciously.

Birthday Dinner For Mr. Williamson

A surprise potluck dinner was given in honor of Mr. Charles Williamson on his 80th birthday. The gay event was planned by Mrs. Williamson in their home.

At noon the guests were seated at tables outdoors to enjoy the meal and visit with Mr. Williamson.

As the honor guest opened his gift, he thanked everyone graciously.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Williamson and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoops and family, all of Washington C. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morrison and grandchildren of Sabina; Mr. and Mrs. William Matney and son, Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Goings, Mrs. Frank Floa of Springfield; Mr. Donald Williamson of Greenfield; Mr. John Parker of Cincinnati and the Rev. Mr. Knight of Arizona.

Mrs. Bryant was pleasantly surprised with a layette shower given in her honor after the meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Brunner, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Thatcher, Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. Richard Gleadall, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Huges, Mrs. Frank Berry, Mrs. Gene Juillerat, Mrs. Armbrust, Mrs. Stephens and two guests Mrs. Richard Wallingford and daughter Sharon.

Mrs. Bryant Hostess To Willing Workers

Mrs. John Bryant was hostess to the Willing Workers Circle of Sugar Grove Methodist Church for its October meeting.

Mrs. Norman Merritt conducted the business session which was opened with prayer by Mrs. Paul Stephens.

"Sin" was Mrs. Wesley Thatch-er's topic for the devotional period.
Mrs. Thatcher was assisted by several members reading from the Scriptures. Prayer closed this period.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Paul Brunner and Mrs. Richard Miller.

Mrs. Charles Wright announced that the group had helped a needy family and the circle voted to buy shoes for this family.

A bake sale will be held Saturday in the Colonial Paint Store, with all proceeds going into the carpet fund for the church.

The members project for the winter will be making quilts. Oct. 28, will be an all-day meeting to start the project.

Mrs. Brunner was appointed to direct the group in learning songs for the Christmas program.

Volunteers from the group are needed to help with the newly organized nursery for worship services.

Mrs. Harold Hugs announced the Bible study course, sponsored by the WSCS will run four straight Mondays in November. Sugar Grove Church is to be the scene of the first session.

The meeting was closed with the reading of the fifth chapter of
Matthew, and prayer led by Mrs.
Eldon Armbrust.

Mrs. Bryant was pleasantly surprised with a layette shower given in her honor after the meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mrs. Brunner, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Thatcher, Mrs. Merritt, Mrs. Richard Gleadall, Mrs.
Wright, Mrs. Hugs, Mrs. Frank
Berry, Mrs. Gene Juillerat, Mrs.
Armbrust, Mrs. Stephens and two guests Mrs. Richard Wallingford and daughter Sharon.

Members of the White Oak Grove community honored Mrs. Jackie Rayburn with a miscellaneous shower in the basement of the White Oak Grove Methodist Church.

Gifts were placed on an L shaped table decorated with fall flowers.

As Mrs. Rayburn opened her lovely gifts, she thanked each one graciously.

Refreshments were served at a long table with hints of fall as the theme.

Mrs. Herbert Burton, Mrs. William Rockhold, Mrs. Robert Stackhouse, Mrs. Enola Shonkwiler and Mrs. Manford Hamilton were in charge of the evening's activities.

Birthday Dinner For Mr. Williamson

A surprise potluck dinner was given in honor of Mr. Charles Williamson on his 80th birthday. The gay event was planned by Mrs.
Williamson in their home.

At noon the guests were seated at tables outdoors to enjoy the meal and visit with Mr. Williamson.

As the honor guest opened his gift, he thanked everyone graciously.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Williamson and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hoops and family, all of Washington C. H.; Mr. and Mrs.
Carl Morrison and grandchildren of Sabina; Mr. and Mrs. William Matney and son, Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Goings, Mrs. Frank
Floa of Springfield; Mr. Donald Williamson of Greenfield; Mrs.
John Parker of Cincinnati and the Rev. Mr. Knight of Arizona.

The meeting was closed with the reading of the fifth chapter of
Matthew, and prayer led by Mrs.
Eldon Armbrust.

Mrs. Bryant was pleasantly surprised with a layette shower given in her honor after the meeting.

Wesleyan Guild Holds Meeting

The Wesleyan Service Guild of Grace Methodist Church held its October meeting in Fellowship Hall.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs.
George Stitt. The chairmen of the various committees gave their reports and Mrs. Ed Fite, coordinator for the WSCS, reported on the luncheons being served by the WSCS Circles of the Church.

The devotional hour was in charge of Mrs. Ethel Caldwell.
The program coordinator, Miss Edith Wilson, presented Mrs. Jerry
Dray who sang "The Penitent."
She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Marian Christopher.

Miss Wilson introduced Mrs. Paul

Craig who gave a book review on "My Arabian Days and Nights" written by Dr. Eleanor Calverly, a medical missionary in Kuwait.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

With fall and cooler weather, comes the reminder of "milk and mush" days and the fact that down through the years milk and mush were long among the staple foods in America.

Often platters of mush, to be eaten with whole milk, formed the only food on the table for the evening meal and then the mush left over or held in reserve, was sliced and fried for breakfast.

I was always very fond of mush and milk. In those days we invariably raised some white corn, and this was taken to the Noble Mill in Bloomingburg, ground into meal and nothing was removed from the whole grain.

However throughout the South where mush and corn bread are still staple foods, yellow corn meal is used instead of white, and the flavor seems to be better than white meal products.

I vividly recall that as long as I was on the farm the family all enjoyed mush and milk, and usually there was a large platter full of mush in the center of the table. There were platters or plates full nearer the ends of the table.

There was plenty of whole milk, and what a delicious meal it was! It was real, honest-to-goodness food.

Mush and milk was formerly used extensively by the pioneers, who found it one of the staple meals during the colder weather.

Today mush and milk, or cream is not as popular as it used to be, for much of the corn meal has been processed until most of the vital elements have been removed. Some of the corn meal is just so much meal in name rather than an excellent food.

Not all women were good mush makers, for unless it is properly made it contains lumps of uncooked meal and these were not too palatable.

Perhaps good mush and milk is another thing that has passed out of the picture to a large extent, but it certainly was at one time a great American dish.

BIG BEAN PODS

At this time of the year one may see the huge bean pods on the honey locust trees, and this year I noticed that the crop is unusually abundant. This is probably due to the wet summer.

These big pods, which contain from three to eight "beans" or seeds, vary in length from six inches to nearly a foot, and they are from 1/4 of an inch to 1 1/2 inches in width. They are very similar to the coffee tree pods, although usually they are much larger.

I know that many of you who live or have lived in the country are familiar with the sweet, honey-like substance found in the big pods as they become ripe, and it seems it is from this deposit of sweet substance that the tree derives its name.

I used to break open the pods to obtain honey they contained.

The honey locust is native to North America and is widely scattered. It is classified as "an ornamental North American tree", and bears the scientific name Gleditsia triacanthos.

The racemes of small green flowers are succeeded by the huge pods.

The body of the honey locust and most of the limbs bristle with spines, and I have seen some that were more than a foot in length growing from the trunks.

These "thorn trees" have long been shunned by barefoot youngsters, and I have stepped on many of the vicious spines in my youth. I also know what is to get out the trees up to a foot or more in diameter!

LIVESTOCK WAS BELLED

Before most of this area was cleared of timber and tall grass, and when pole and rail fences were not much in evidence, livestock including cows, sheep and turkeys, ran more or less at large.

Their owners therefore found it expedient to place bells about the necks of at least one cow, sheep or turkey in the herds and flocks so the livestock could be rounded up for the night to insure their safety.

In those days the tinkling of cow, sheep and turkey bells could be heard on nearly every farm.

I don't believe there is now a single belled cow, sheep or turkey in Fayette County, although old bells still exist by the hundreds.

I have been searching for a turkey bell and some other good specimens for the Fayette County Historical Society.

Usually a bell was placed on a male sheep and it was known as the "bell wether", or leader of the flock.

Often bells were placed on cows so they could be readily found.

One gobbler was usually belled and as the flocks remained together, one belled bird was sufficient.

Since most of the timber has been cleared away and livestock may be readily seen, there is no longer any need for bells about the necks of animals and birds.

30 YEARS AGO

Plans were made for the dirigible Graf Zeppelin, which had just made the first voyage across the Atlantic from Germany, to fly over Washington C. H. if weather conditions were favorable for a Midwestern trip.

Howard Hagler, prominent farmer and livestock raiser died in Matador, Tex., after a short illness. He was there with other Fayette Countians buying cattle for feeding purposes.

A thick layer of choice gravel was found in the excavation being made for the Montgomery Ward Co. building, W. Court St.

Mrs. Sherman Grimes, Marion Township going to the corn field to take a pair of gloves to her husband, found him sitting against a corn shock, dead of a heart attack.

More than 100 officials of various farm organizations in many states made a tour of the Co-Op Stockyards here, the local yards being one of the first of its kind.

The Sugar Creek bridge on Route 22 west was completed.

Seven Rotary clubs in this district held a meeting at the K. of P. Hall on N. Fayette St.

Jobless Pay Claims May Be Made Now By Ex-Servicemen

Unemployed ex-servicemen who have been discharged from active military service within the past 15 months can make claims for unemployment compensation starting Monday, according to Mrs. Matilda Jo Smith, manager of the Washington C. H. office of the Ohio

Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. She said this is being done under the provisions of the federal unemployment compensation Act of 1958, which permits the bureau to use military pay and allowances as wage credits in computing unemployment benefits for ex-servicemen. This federal program is being administered under state unemployment compensation laws. Ex-servicemen who filed their first claims in Ohio after discharge from military service will have them processed under the Ohio law, which provides weekly benefits ranging from $10 to $33, plus a maximum of $6 each for dependent children, Mrs. Smith said. The ex-servicemen who apply in addition to meeting federal eligible requirements as to military service, must meet the requirements of Ohio law, Mrs. Smith said. This means that the applicant must be able to work, read and available and actively seeking work during each week while he is claiming unemployment benefits.

Gross National Product Eyed By Economists

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The kingpin of all the measures of good times or bad in the United States is the gross national product. It is widely accepted by businessmen and economists as giving the best picture of the economy at the moment.

But some economists have challenged its accuracy and doubt if it gives a complete picture of where we stand. And probably many Americans have only a vague notion of what it is or how it is compiled.

The short definition for GNP usually used is: The dollar value of all goods and services produced in the nation.

President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers has just predicted that GNP will hit a record annual rate of 450 billion dollars by the end of this year — a comforting thought for all, except for those whose own businesses aren't booming and for the more than four million who are out of work.

The GNP is made up of the best statistics and estimates available to the Commerce Department. The first announcements often have to be revised as later figures come in. And a rise in GNP could reflect a rise in prices quite as much as any gain in business activity.

What are the components of GNP?

First and biggest are personal consumption expenditures, which at present are reported to be running at an annual rate of 292 billion dollars. This is an estimate of what people are spending for durable goods like autos and household appliances, what they are spending for nondurable goods like clothing and food, and what they are spending for services like electricity and rent and medical care.

The next item is gross private domestic investment. This includes spending on construction of nonfarm homes or apartment houses and the cost of all other kinds of building. What business is investing in durable equipment also goes into this figure or estimate.

Then the department gathers data on business inventories. If they are rising as they were a year ago the change from the previous three months period is added onto GNP. If they are falling as they have been for some time the change from the last period is subtracted from GNP. The change in the last three months was a minus four billion dollars at an annual rate.

Then the department adds in what it has been able to find out about net foreign investment — what American businessmen or individuals have spent on their holdings abroad.

Finally it looks at government purchases. Here the figures are more easily come by. And over the past year they have been rising.

The latest figures show federal spending on goods and services running at 53 billion dollars a year, and state and local spending running at 40 billion. With the federal budget approaching the 80 billion dollar a year level, it is obvious that not all outgo adds to gross national product.

The value of GNP is that it gives estimates of three things: The value produced, the incomes earned, and the spending done.

Critics say it leaves out of account some other kinds of economic activity. And they list the exchange of used cars, houses, land or of stocks, bonds, mortgages and other credit instruments.

They also stress the distortions caused by changing prices when GNP is used as gospel for where the economy is and where it's headed.

Even Sen. Bricker Running 'Scared' in 1958 Campaign

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you think Republicans aren't running scared in Ohio this year, take another look at the U.S. senatorial election race.

Sen. John W. Bricker, widely regarded as a good bet to win reelection over his Democrat opponent, former congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, is campaigning harder than most candidates on the GOP ticket.

The former governor is dividing his time between appearances in vote-heavy cities and junkets into rural areas where he is admittedly strong.

"Only if Republicans get out to vote will we win; if they don't we won't," Bricker warns repeatedly. He asserts the warning is needed because Democrat voters out-registered Republicans this year.

Young is firing up the campaign by attacking the record compiled by Bricker during a dozen years as senator. "He consistently opposed those measures which work for the interests of all the people," Young insists. That theme runs through most of his speeches. Bricker points with pride to the record that has made him a recognized leader of conservatives opposing waste in government and concentration of power.

That record, he says, shows consistent support for higher social security benefits, unemployment compensation, minimum pay, aid for the aged, workmen's compensation and similar welfare aids.

Just as consistently, Bricker says, he has opposed "give away programs" and welfare proposals he considers unrealistic. In the last Congress, Bricker says, he supported labor law amendments designed to give rank and file workers greater control over their unions.

Young, who boasts various labor endorsements, challenges Bricker's claims. The Clevelander opposes a proposal to regulate labor contracts that will be on Ohio ballots as state constitutional amendment issue No. 2. Bricker says he will vote for the issue.

Bricker hits farm controls and terms the economic balance between Ohio agriculture and industry the best of any state. Young favors price supports that he claims will give farmers their fair share of the nation's economic wealth.

Young blames Republican administration policies for the recession that Bricker says already has ended with rising employment. Young also criticizes the Eisenhower foreign policy that Bricker says brought peace with honor.

So goes the senatorial battle right down to election day, Nov. 4.

Young is an old hand at statewide campaigning. The 69-year-old attorney served four terms as congressman-at-large before Ohio began electing U.S. representatives only by districts. He was elected congressman-at-large in 1932, 1934, 1940 and 1948. Two years ago he was the Democratic nominee for attorney general. He was unopposed for his party's senatorial nomination this year.

Bricker, 65, began his Ohio political career in 1923 and has been in public office almost continuously since 1929. Besides three terms as governor and two as attorney general, he was the Republican vice president nominee in 1944. After two years in private law

50 American Students Get German Welcome

BONN, Germany (AP)—Cabinet Minister Hermann Lindrath today welcomed 50 American students who will study on German scholarships.

The scholarships are sponsored by a foundation created to express German gratitude for postwar U.S. economic aid. The Americans will study at technical institutions and universities in West Germany and West Berlin.

So far the foundation has sponsored 125 Americans for a year's study in Germany.

Gross National Product Eyed By Economists

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The kingpin of all the measures of good times or bad in the United States is the gross national product. It is widely accepted by businessmen and economists as giving the best picture of the economy at the moment.

But some economists have challenged its accuracy and doubt if it gives a complete picture of where we stand. And probably many Americans have only a vague notion of what it is or how it is compiled.

The short definition for GNP usually used is: The dollar value of all goods and services produced in the nation.

President Eisenhower's Council of Economic Advisers has just predicted that GNP will hit a record annual rate of 450 billion dollars by the end of this year—a comforting thought for all, except for those whose own businesses aren't booming and for the more than four million who are out of work.

The GNP is made up of the best statistics and estimates available to the Commerce Department. The first announcements often have to be revised as later figures come in. And a rise in GNP could reflect a rise in prices quite as much as any gain in business activity.

What are the components of GNP?

First and biggest are personal consumption expenditures, which at present are reported to be running at an annual rate of 292 billion dollars. This is an estimate of what people are spending for durable goods like autos and household appliances, what they are spending for nondurable goods like clothing and food, and what they are spending for services like electricity and rent and medical care.

The next item is gross private domestic investment. This includes spending on construction of nonfarm homes or apartment houses and the cost of all other kinds of building. What business is investing in durable equipment also goes into this figure or estimate.

Then the department gathers data on business inventories. If they are rising as they were a year ago the change from the previous three months period is added onto GNP. If they are falling as they have been for some time the change from the last period is subtracted from GNP. The change in the last three months was a minus four billion dollars at an annual rate.

Then the department adds in what it has been able to find out about net foreign investment—what American businessmen or individuals have spent on their holdings abroad.

Finally it looks at government purchases. Here the figures are more easily come by. And over the past year they have been rising.

The latest figures show federal spending on goods and services running at 53 billion dollars a year, and state and local spending running at 40 billion. With the federal budget approaching the 80 billion dollar a year level, it is obvious that not all outgo adds to gross national product.

fields. Even firemen were in on the act with big searchlights when Jerry Singleton, 27, finally was captured at the rear of a home. Singleton was taken to a hospital suffering from a bullet wound in a finger, a severe head cut suffered when he wrecked the stolen car and scratches and bruises he got as he fled through fields. Motorcycle Patrolman Charles Black suffered a slight bullet wound on one hand. He apparently was shot with his own gun as he fired at the fleeing Singleton while operating his motorcycle at high speed. The chase started when motorcycle Patrolman George O'Reilly, 31, spotted the stolen car shortly after hearing a radio report on it. He and Black started shooting and the car crashed. Singleton fled on foot into fields and managed to get away as dozens of other officers converged on the scene. Later, Charles Farmer, 24, called police when he saw Singleton fall exhausted in his yard. As officers arrived, Singleton again started running through back yards and vaulting fences. He was cornered in a schoolyard and police fired several shots at him but he again got away. When he finally was cornered for good and surrendered, firemen were on hand with searchlights to light up the area. Police said Singleton told them he was paroled last July after serving four years in Ohio Penitentiary for burglary.

Dayton IUE To Ballot On Delco Settlement

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Members of Local 755 of the International Union of Electrical Workers will vote this afternoon on whether to accept a settlement of their grievances and end a 20-day-old strike against Delco Products Division of General Motors. Negotiators for the union and the company announced a tentative settlement Tuesday night. Seniority provisions is the principal issue that has kept the workers out since Oct. 2.

DiSalle Sees New Industry Due in Ohio

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio, now the number two industrial state in the nation, has the potential to become number one industrially, Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, said here today.

"We must plan now for the means by which we can continue to be attractive to industry, in particular by good government housekeeping, especially in eliminating the so-called crash programs in highway planning, mental health and other services," DiSalle said. "Crash programs are usually inefficient, expensive and in the long run inadequate."

"Unless state government effects every economy possible, the result is either to take away from necessary programs or to lead to confiscatory taxes," DiSalle added. "An overall long-range plan is needed now to determine how Ohio is going to fare in the keen competition for industrial growth," DiSalle said. "Having that plan, we must be assured that we have the aggressive, effective leadership to direct it."

Smith Tells Club Of Air Base Tour

City School Head Is Rotary Speaker

A brief story of his recent plane trip to a number of U. S. air bases as one of 39 school administrators who were guests of the Air Force, was given by W. A. Smith, superintendent of Washington C. H. schools, at Tuesday's Rotary Luncheon.

The other titled "Wings of Tomorrow," pictured student life and other activities at the Air Force Academy in Colorado. Marlyn Flee operated the projector for the pictures.

THE SPEAKER, presented by George Kratz of the October program committee, pointed out that the American Assn. of School Administrators had been asked by the Air Force to select a group of representative public school administrators for the tour. The object was to present the educational facilities being offered in Air Force training.

One of the high points of the trip was an air power demonstration, at Eglin Field, Fla., where not only planes, but newly developed air missiles were exhibited and demonstrated.

In the course of his talk Smith made an appeal for public support of the one-mill tax levy being sought by the schools here which, he said, would be necessary to meet the school budget, as a result in the cut of present operating levies and a probable reduction in the amount the schools here would receive from the State School Foundation fund, due to increases in the city's tax duplicate.

THE USUAL birthday greetings were awarded to Dr. A. D. Woodmansee previous to the regular program. President Joe Campbell announced that a definite date has been set for the next Rotary Ann dinner meeting—Dec. 3 at the Country Club.

Members of the Washington High School football squad will be guests at next week's meeting.

Guests Tuesday were Don Murdock with Paul Arthur, David Poell, new city manager, with Walter Morrow, and Marlyn Flee with W. A. Smith.

Rotarian guests were Wilson Moon, William Shawhan, Allen Johnson, Joseph Dillon, F. Wilkin, Arlen Pettigrew and Paul Fairley, all of Greenfield.

This Greenfield group entered the dining hall just after Rotarians were seated. Each member wore a mask, was dressed in a clown uniform and was playing a phony musical instrument. As they marched around the hall they held placards advertising the tri-city Rotary dinner at Greenfield next Thursday night and one of their members made a formal announcement.

Other Rotarian guests were Carl Burger and J. W. Pferl of Mt. Sterling.

Fingerprints May Identify Body of Man

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Fingerprint reports were needed today to clinch a tentative identification and link a body fished from a private lake with a $14,645 embezzlement of union funds.

There was a bullet hole above the left eye. Coroner Harry Elston Jr. said, "It looks like homicide, not suicide."

Dr. Elston said the tentative identification was made by Brown's wife, Carole, who with her husband was charged two months ago in connection with embezzlement from Carpenters Union Local 17 by appropriating signed blank checks. Mrs. Brown was secretary for the union.

While awaiting grand jury action, the Browns were freed on bond. Brown disappeared about 10 days ago but never was reported missing, authorities said. The couple has two children, age 4 and 1.

Elston and Trumbull County Sheriff T. Herbert Thomas agreed to await the fingerprint-report before making a positive identification of the dead man.

SHVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Herbert B. Eagon, director of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, has been elected an honorary member of the Soil Conservation Society of America. The society at its 13th annual meeting Tuesday night also elected Lloyd L. Harrold, project supervisor, soil and conservation research service at Coshocton, Ohio, to fellowship in the society.

DiSalle Sees New Industry Due in Ohio

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Ohio, now the number two industrial state in the nation, has the potential to become number one industrially, Michael V. DiSalle, Democratic candidate for governor, said here today.

"We must plan now for the means by which we can continue to be attractive to industry, in particular by good government housekeeping, especially in eliminating the so-called crash programs in highway planning, mental health and other services," DiSalle said. "Crash programs are usually inefficient, expensive and in the long run inadequate."

"Unless state government effects every economy possible, the result is either to take away from necessary programs or to lead to confiscatory taxes," DiSalle added.

"An overall long-range plan is needed now to determine how Ohio is going to fare in the keen competition for industrial growth," DiSalle said. "Having that plan, we must be assured that we have the aggressive, effective leadership to direct it."

Next to automobiles and steel, travel is America's third largest industry.

Smith Tells Club Of Air Base Tour

City School Head Is Rotary Speaker

SPINSTER AT 100—Celebrating her 100th birthday in San Francisco, Miss Francis Tarry displays a ringless left hand as she tells reporters that the secret of her longevity is: "I have never married." While many of her friends have celebrated a half century of wedded bliss, Miss Tarry says she "lived alone and liked it."

A brief story of his recent plane trip to a number of U. S. air bases as one of 39 school administrators who were guests of the Air Force, was given by W. A. Smith, superintendent of Washington C. H. schools, at Tuesday's Rotary luncheon.

Smith also presented two reels of Air Force motion pictures, one depicting precision flying by the fast Thunderbolt jet planes.

The other titled "Wings of Tomorrow", pictured student life and other activities at the Air Force Academy in Colorado. Marlyn Flee operated the projector for the pictures.

THE SPEAKER, presented by George Kratz of the October program committee, pointed out that the American Assn. of School Administrators had been asked by the Air Force to select a group of representative public school administrators for the tour. The object was to present the educational facilities being offered in Air Force training.

One of the high points of the trip was an air power demonstration, at Eglin Field, Fla., where not only planes, but newly developed air missiles were exhibited and demonstrated.

In the course of his talk Smith made an appeal for public support of the one-mill tax levy being sought by the schools here which, he said, would be necessary to meet the school budget, as a result in the cut of present operating levies and a probable reduction in the amount the schools here would receive from the State School Foundation fund, due to increases in the city's tax duplicate.

THE USUAL birthday greetings were awarded to Dr. A. D. Woodmansee previous to the regular program. President Joe Campbell announced that a definite date has been set for the next Rotary Ann dinner meeting—Dec. 3 at the Country Club.

Members of the Washington High School football squad will be guests at next week's meeting.

Guests Tuesday were Don Mordock with Paul Arthur, David Foell, new city manager, with Walter Morrow, and Marlyn Flee with W. A. Smith.

Rotarian guests were Wilson Moon, William Shawhan, Allen Johnson, Joseph Dillon, F. Wilkin, Arlen Pettigrew and Paul Fairley, all of Greenfield.

This Greenfield group entered the dining hall just after Rotarians were seated. Each member wore a mask, was dressed in a clown uniform and was playing a phony musical instrument. As they marched around the hall they held placards advertising the tri-city Rotary dinner at Greenfield next Thursday night and one of their members made a formal announcement.

Other Rotarian guests were Carl Burger and J. W. Perl of Mt. Sterling.

Fingerprints May Identify Body of Man

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Fingerprint reports were needed today to clinch a tentative identification and link a body fished from a private lake with a $14,645 embezzlement of union funds.

The body found in Cedar Lake, south of here, Tuesday was identified tentatively from a skin graft and a wedding ring as that of Richard Brown, 22, of Mineral Ridge.

There was a bullet hole above the left eye. Coroner Harry Elston Jr. said, "It looks like homicide, not suicide."

Dr. Elston said the tentative identification was made by Brown's wife, Carole, who with her husband was charged two months ago in connection with embezzlement from Carpenters Union Local 17 by appropriating signed blank checks. Mrs. Brown was secretary for the union.

While awaiting grand jury action, the Browns were freed on bond. Brown disappeared about 10 days ago but never was reported missing, authorities said. The couple has two children, age 4 and 1.

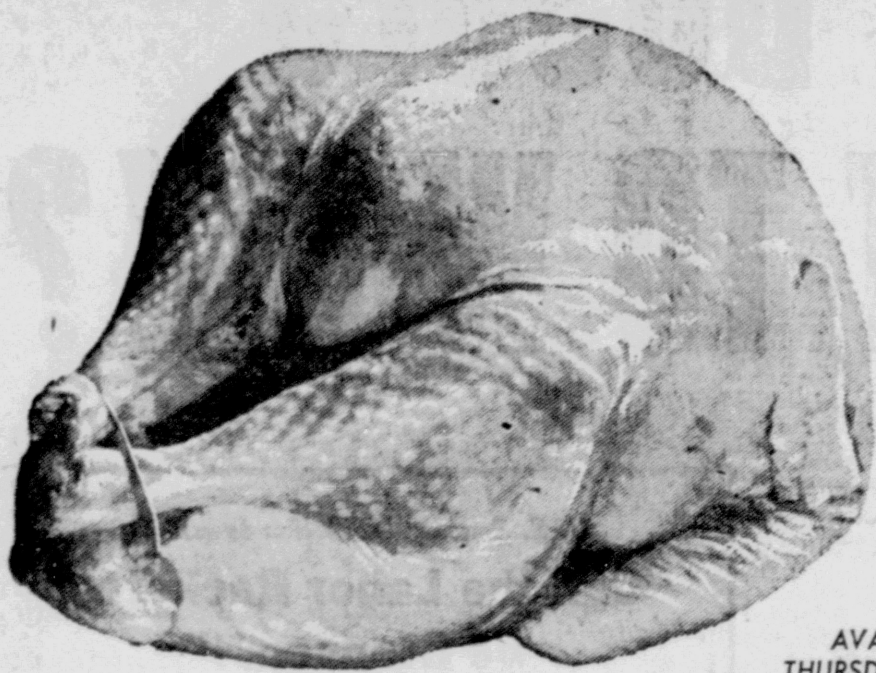

Elston and Trumbull County Sheriff T. Herbert Thomas agreed to await the fingerprint report before making a positive identification of the dead man.

Mack Truck Co., UAW Seek To End Dispute

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for the United Auto Workers and the Mack Truck Co. have begun around-the-clock bargaining sessions to try to end a strike that began Sunday. A joint statement issued by both sides Tuesday indicated further progress has been made but no settlement has been reached. Mack has plants in four states including one at Sidney, Ohio.

Pie Is Still in the Sky For Majority of Soviets

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Forty-one years after the Russian Revolution the pie is still in the sky for 99 per cent of the Soviet people.

The way the Russians feel about it is illustrated by one of their anecdotes:

One Soviet citizen says things are going to be great—every Russian will have a private jet plane by 1960.

"What do I want a jet for?" a friend asks.

"Don't be a fool," the first man says. "When Pravda reports there are eggs in Vladivostok you jump into your jet and go to Vladivostok."

The Russians have made impressive strides in housing and consumer goods since Stalin died.

Drive into Moscow from any direction and your view is blocked by uninspiring but massive construction projects. And GUM, the biggest department store, has a window full of high-heeled shoes.

But 99 per cent of Moscow's residents haven't a hope of getting a new apartment in the next few years. Most live one family to a room, sharing a four-burner gas stove and bathroom with three or four other families. And it takes months of waiting to buy an ordinary attractive pair of shoes let alone high heels.

On the surface, Moscow looks a great deal better than it did three years ago. There are more goods. Clothes are still shapeless and drab. But last year the government put out a neat raglan-sleeve raincoat in tan and navy blue. It has improved the street appearance of the Soviet male as nothing else in 41 years.

Even Warsaw is a riot of color and revelry compared with Moscow.

Everything's crowded in Moscow. The streets are a sea of gray humanity. It's a fight to get into the stores. The restaurants are nearly always crowded. People hover outside every theater, movie, opera house and sports stadium cadging tickets. Tickets to most amusements are allotted by party or trade union organization. The public gets the leftovers.

There are lines for nearly everything in Moscow, from buses to streetcars to the pop and ice cream vendor on the corner. In the better stocked grocery stores the lines are three deep.

Once at GUM I saw a line of several hundred people. I asked women near the end what they were waiting for. They weren't too sure. It turned out to be cheap Chinese table cloths.

There aren't enough stores, theaters or stadiums to go around. As long as the government owns them all, it would be poor business to open more to compete with one another.

A family budget would stagger an American housewife.

Rent runs less than 5 per cent of income, or 20 to 60 rubles. The ruble is worth 10 cents at the tourist rate.

Medical care is free, if you can spend days waiting your turn at a state clinic, or work your way through the cots that line corridors of the average hospital.

Vacations at state sanatoria are free or cut rate if you have a good job, work hard or have influence.

They can't afford to buy anything as luxurious as clothes regularly, so they spend it on amusements, or more food. Every year or so they splurge on a coat for Ivan or a pair of shoes for Galina.

The Soviet Union has produced a generation of cynics, and the most cynical are its youth.

An American in Moscow soon finds that 40 years of hothouse breeding has not created an unthinking robot and stifled human curiosity, skepticism or ideals.

But this may still turn out to be a discouraging discovery.

The cynicism of youth is not direct threat to the regime. It is not of the sort that moves mountains.

Most young Russians have a consuming curiosity about the world outside, especially the United States.

They don't believe most of what they're told—that's propaganda, and they've built up an immunity to propaganda—but they have little to fill the holes.

They pick up the Voice of America—it comes booming out of tenement windows in Moscow, Leningrad and Tiflis—and they button-hole tourists for scraps of information.

Moscow radio turns out its messages of hate, dressed in words of peace, but Russians you talk to couldn't care less. They're far more interested in the price of shoes in New York.

Unquestionably, many young Russians accept the party line—hook and sinker. They are the 10 per cent or so who end up with the good education and know which side of their bread gets the butter. Others, at the other end of the social spectrum, are too busy earning their bread to think too hard, but not too busy to bear resentment.

Ohio Mental Clinic Expansion Pledged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill said today his administration is pledged to a goal of "more than doubling the number of community clinics fighting mental illness throughout Ohio."

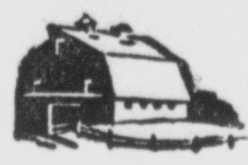

Asserting in a prepared statement that the best place to combat mental illness is at home, the governor said:

"We have initiated six new clinics in the last year and a half. Three more will follow in the immediate future. This means 38 clinics at work in Ohio serving well over 9,000 cases in various communities. But we intend to push on to an all-out effort in this area by making a program available which can open another 40 clinics and blanket the entire state."

The five official languages used in the General Assembly of the United Nations are: English, French, Spanish, Chinese and Russian.

WHY ARE LABOR BOSSES SO AFRAID OF RIGHT TO WORK?

They're afraid that Right to Work will force them to justify their activities to the rank and file. Afraid that Right to Work will put an end to their taking a free ride at the expense of the union members.

They're afraid that Right to Work will put a curb on corruption, rigged elections, racketeering, hoodlumism, goon tactics, and personal and political use of members' dues and union funds without an accounting.

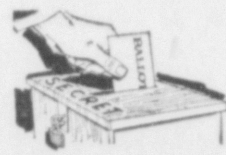

They're afraid that Right to Work will make it impossible for them to silence a member who asks too many embarrassing questions at union meetings—by forcing his employer to fire him.

They're afraid that under Right to Work their relatives and cronies may get tossed off the union payrolls.

They're afraid that Right to Work will make it possible for the captive membership of a corrupt or communistic union to walk out in a body and join an honest, patriotic union.

As union members, we especially salute the many, many thousands of union members—including unpaid committee men, committee women and officials—who, like ourselves, are fighting for the freedom of choice and against corruption and intimidation within unions.

Judge for Yourself!

This is free America . . .
Your Vote is Secret!

The Right to Work Amendment has one and only one purpose—to give wage earners Freedom of Choice to belong, or not belong, to a labor union.

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this State. All agreements in conflict with this Section are, to the extent of such conflict, unlawful and of no effect in this State."

Union bosses are telling you they have ways to find out how you vote. This is intimidation in its most un-American form. Union bosses can never know how you vote on Right to Work.

Under Ohio law you vote alone in a closed booth • Your name does not appear on your ballot • There is no way to identify you • You do not write on your ballot—just mark X's • You fold your own ballot and drop it yourself into a locked and guarded box. If you vote by machine, there is no possibility of identification because your vote is recorded and counted mechanically.

U. S. Senator McClellan is asked:

"Can the Labor Racketeer be Stopped?"

Interview by Editor of U. S. News & World Report with Senator John E. McClellan, Chairman, Senate Investigating Committee, as published in issue of October 10, 1958.

- Q. Senator McClellan, what are the principal abuses that have been uncovered by your Committee?
- McC. One of the most important, I think, to union members is the misuse of their funds. The members are being exploited in many instances by union officials.
- Q. How do they do that?
- McC. By simply taking the money. They write checks to cash. There's no accounting for the money, no voucher for it.
- Q. What do they usually do with it?
- McC. Many times, I'm sure it's used in political campaigns. Many times the money is pocketed.
- Q. How do those hoodlums get into the unions?
- McC. Many of them are not elected. Many are appointed.
- Q. Does labor union organization need to resort to these methods to be effective?
- McC. In my opinion, no. I think the wholesomeness of unionism depends upon the free will of the people. I don't agree with compulsory unionism. I think that's wrong in principle.
- Q. The public is puzzled about why the rank and file don't rise up in indignation. Can you answer that?
- McC. I can't—except they are afraid.
- Q. Do you see any hope of the rank and file throwing Hoffa out of the union?
- McC. It is doubtful. They really have no control. In a union such as Hoffa runs, when you go to a meeting and try to make a protest . . . somebody is there to smash your head in or threaten your family.
- Q. Are you for or against Right to Work laws?
- McC. I believe a State should have the right to enact those laws. We have a Right to Work law in my State and I support it.

AP Guesspert Picks Badgers To Trip Bucks

Army, Auburn, Irish
Oklahoma Also Tapped
For Victory Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — You say they have taken the kicking out of football? Hmmm? What about these letters? After all, 36 correct guesses in 52 attempts last week isn't too bad, is it?

Here are this weekend's picks:
Army over Pittsburgh: Two of the East's most rugged. Dawkins — If he plays — and Anderson give the Cadets an edge in speed.

Wisconsin over Ohio State: Strictly on a hunch.

Louisiana State over Florida: How can the Tigers be denied. They have a Cannon, Bill that is, while the Gators must counter with 145-pound Jimmy Dunn.

Auburn over Maryland: The Plainsmen don't score heavily but their opponents usually don't score at all.

Oklahoma over Kansas State: The Sooners, now playing in the Big Eight, will have a winning streak of two come Saturday night.

Washington State over Southern California: Have you ever seen so many ups and downs as in the Coast Conference this fall?

Notre Dame over Purdue: All the Irish walking wounded are back in good health. They will need to be to stop the team that spilled Michigan State a week ago.

Princeton over Cornell: Who would have thought two months ago that this one might decide the Ivy League title?

FRIDAY
William & Mary over George Washington.

SATURDAY

SOUTH: Mississippi over Arkansas, Clemson over South Carolina, Duke, Furman over the Citadel, Kentucky over Georgia, Mississippi State over Alabama, North Carolina over Wake Forest, Tennessee over Florida State, Vanderbilt over Virginia, Virginia Tech over West Virginia.

MIDWEST: Iowa over Northwestern, Cincinnati over Oklahoma State, Colorado over Nebraska, Arizona State over Detroit, Bradley over Drake, Michigan State over Illinois, Indiana over Miami (Ohio), Tulane over Kansas College of Pacific over Marquette, Michigan over Minnesota, Missouri over Iowa State.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Texas, Baylor over Texas A&M, Hardin-Simmons over Wichita, North Texas State over Tulsa, Southern Methodist over Georgia Tech.

FAR WEST: Air Force over Utah, Oregon over California, Idaho over Arizona, Oregon State over Washington, UCLA over Stanford, Colorado State over Utah State, Wyoming over New Mexico.

Formal Setting Due For Welter Bout

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Boxing goes slightly back tie to tonight when Gaspar Ortega of Tijuana, Mex., and Don Jordan of Los Angeles hook up in a 12-round rematch. The winner is set for a title fight with welterweight champion Virgil Akins.

The bout will be nationally televised via ABC, starting at 6 p.m. PST.

The setting will be the grand ballroom of the Lafayette Hotel, where in July beauties from all over the world resided for the Miss Universe contest.

Black ties and stiff shirts are hardly mandatory but 1,000 or so sports-minded Long Beach socialites figure to be on hand. They will pay $25 or $15 for the fight and dinner.

Top Rushing Honors Seen For Brown

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Statistics are proving what many opposing football players already accept as fact — that Jim Brown may be the greatest rusher in the history of the National Football League.

Official NFL figures released today show that the bruising fullback of the Eastern Division — leading Cleveland Browns — is well on his way to setting a rushing record for one season and also has a good shot at a scoring record.

The former Syracuse star has accounted for 635 yards on 94 running attempts in the Browns' four winning efforts this year. That figures out to a 6.8 yard average per carry and a game average of almost 159 yards. The game figure is about 65 yards more than Steve Van Buren averaged when he set the present NFL league rushing record with 1,146 yards for the Philadelphia Eagles in 1949.

Another big reason for the Browns' success is rookie Bob Mitchell whose season total of 370 yards rushing is second best in the league. Mitchell has averaged 8.8 yards for each of his 42 runs. Tom Wilson of Los Angeles is a distant third with 302 yards by running.

Eddie Lebaron of the Washington Redskins, John Brodie of San Francisco and John Unitas of Baltimore continue to head the passers. Lebaron has the best average gain per pass attempt, 9.70 yards. Brodie has the best completion average, 58.8 per cent in 68 attempts. Unitas' passing has accounted for the most yards, 907.

Owner of Widower Creed Loses License in Dope Case

NEW YORK (AP)—State harness racing commissioner George P. Monaghan has revoked the licenses of Thomas H. Loss, of Swanton, Ohio, and Harry Johnson, of Shelbyville, Ind.

Monaghan took the action Tuesday on the basis of state laboratory tests which showed that a saliva sample taken from the harness race horse Widower Creed showed presence of a drug.

Loss was the owner and Johnson the groom of Widower Creed. The saliva sample was taken from the horse after the $50,000 Trans-America Pace at Yonkers Raceway at suburban Yonkers, N.Y., Sept. 30.

Monaghan ordered that the trainer and driver, Howard F. Beissinger, of Hamilton, Ohio, be suspended until the end of the New York harness racing season at Yonkers Nov. 25.

Beissinger was cleared of any part in the doping, and was penalized only on the ground of neglect.

New York state racing regulations hold the trainer completely responsible at all times for the condition of his horse.

Widower Creed finished third in the Trans-America Pace and won $6,000. The money probably will be redistributed.

After the laboratory tests showed presence of a drug, Loss, Johnson and Beissinger were suspended pending further investigation.

Monaghan said Tuesday that the groom admitted swabbing Widower Creed's nostrils with a drug five minutes before the Trans-America Pace. The groom said he did it because the horse was snorting.

Beissinger was in Kentucky for five days prior to the race. He had been training Widower Creed since Aug. 15, taking over from Jimmy Wingfield, of Leesburg, Ga. Loss had stipulated that Johnson would have to be retained by Beissinger. A trainer usually hires his own groom.

Top-Ranked Teams All Know 'Giant-Killers' Just Itching

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
How secure did one of those faded Western gunfighters feel with a few notches on his shootin' arn? Ask any of the top football teams. Someone is always waiting to gain a "rep" by knocking them off.

This is not a spontaneous thing. A team begins its plotting over the weekend with scouting reports and movies, then goes into the operations stage with the first practice session.

Let's look in on the practice fields of teams playing some of the nation's top teams this week.

At Pittsburgh, where top-ranked Army meets Pitt Saturday, Panther Coach Johnny Michelosen is trying to stop a siege of fumbleitis that has hampered a Pitt attack. He is also sharpening up a passing attack led by Ivan Tomic and Bill Kaliden to exploit a weakness the Cadets showed in beating Virginia last Saturday.

Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn, looking toward Ohio State (No. 2) Saturday, expects tackles Dan Lanphear and Jim Heinicke to be off the injury list. The first two teams worked only lightly after being by Iowa Saturday for their first loss.

The Rice Owls, playing fourth-ranked Texas Saturday night, worked only lightly and watched films of last year's Texas game. Guard Charley Knight, on the injured list, was pronounced available for the game.

Maryland Coach Tommy Mont made wholesale changes in his second and third teams as he strived to get some depth for his game with fifth-ranked Auburn. Winless Arkansas, playing sixth-ranked Mississippi, studied films of its loss to Texas while Coach Frank Broyles moved Glenn Throckmorton into the right tackle spot replacing Eddie Walker, who moved to right guard.

Northwestern's (No. 8) first-stringers exercised lightly, then were excused as they began prepping for seventh-ranked Iowa. The Hawkeyes ran through a signal drill, while Kansas State went through a long drill, without contact work, to correct glaring errors in its 32-8 loss to Missouri. K-State plays ninth-ranked Oklahoma.

South Carolina has a Thursday dte with Clemson (No. 10) and went throughout its final heavy contact work, emphasizing pass defense against Clemson quarterback Harvey White.

16 Survivors Remain In Senior Tournament

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Sixteen survivors moved into the second round of the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament today after a first round marked by upper bracket victories for medalist Thomas Robbins of Pinehurst and venerable Chick Evans.

Robbins, whose three under par 69 gave him the medal Monday, romped past P. J. Farley of Grand Rapids, Mich., 6 and 5, in his first match play test.

Evans, winner of both the U.S. Open and Amateur titles 42 years ago, prevailed by the same score over George Henderson of Pittsburgh.

Pro Cage Benefit Yields $10,121 For Ailing Player

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. today were to take a check for $10,121.40 to Maurice Stokes, the team's former star rebounder.

Stokes never has been more than partly conscious since being stricken with a brain disease last March. He has been hospitalized since that time.

Tuesday night four teams of the NBA—the Royals, the St. Louis Hawks, the Boston Celtics and the Detroit Pistons—played a benefit double-header here to help raise money to pay Stokes' mounting hospital and medical bills.

All four teams donated their services and all receipts, less taxes, went to Stokes.

AP Guesspert Picks Badgers To Trip Bucks

Army, Auburn, Irish
Oklahoma Also Tapped
For Victory Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—You say they have taken the kicking out of football? Hmmmm? What about these letters? After all, 36 correct guesses in 52 attempts last week isn't too bad, is it?

Here are this weekend's picks:
Army over Pittsburgh: Two of the East's most rugged. Dawkins—if he plays—and Anderson give the Cadets an edge in speed.

Wisconsin over Ohio State: Strictly on a hunch.

Louisiana State over Florida: How can the Tigers be denied. They have a Cannon, Bill that is, while the Gators must counter with 145-pound Jimmy Dunn.

Auburn over Maryland: The Plainsmen don't score heavily but their opponents usually don't score at all.

Oklahoma over Kansas State: The Sooners, now playing in the Big Eight, will have a winning streak of two come Saturday night.

Washington State over Southern California: Have you ever seen so many ups and downs as in the Coast Conference this fall?

Notre Dame over Purdue: All the Irish walking wounded are back in good health. They will need to be to stop the team that spilled Michigan State a week ago.

Princeton over Cornell: Who would have thought two months ago that this one might decide the Ivy League title?

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY
William & Mary over George Washington.

SATURDAY

SOUTH: Mississippi over Arkansas, Clemson over South Carolina, Duke, Furman over the Citadel, Kentucky over Georgia, Mississippi State over Alabama, North Carolina over Wake Forest, Tennessee over Florida State, Vanderbilt over Virginia, Virginia Tech over West Virginia.

MIDWEST: Iowa over Northwestern, Cincinnati over Oklahoma State, Colorado over Nebraska, Arizona State over Detroit, Bradley over Drake, Michigan State over Illinois, Indiana over Miami (Ohio), Tulane over Kansas College of Pacific over Marquette, Michigan over Minnesota, Missouri over Iowa State.

SOUTHWEST: Rice over Texas, Baylor over Texas A&M, Hardin-Simmons over Wichita, North Texas State over Tulsa, Southern Methodist over Georgia Tech.

FAR WEST: Air Force over Utah, Oregon over California, Idaho over Arizona, Oregon State over Washington, UCLA over Stanford, Colorado State over Utah State, Wyoming over New Mexico.

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Boxing goes slightly black tie to night when Gaspar Ortega of Tijuana, Mex., and Don Jordan of Los Angeles hook up in a 12-round rematch. The winner is set for a title fight with welterweight champion Virgil Alkins.

The bout will be nationally televised via ABC, starting at 6 p.m., PST.

The setting will be the grand ballroom of the Lafayette Hotel, where in July beauties from all over the world resided for the Miss Universe contest.

Black ties and stiff shirts are hardly mandatory but 1,000 or so sports-minded Long Beach socialites figure to be on hand. They will pay $25 or $15 for the fight and dinner.

Top Rushing Honors Seen For Brown

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Statistics are proving what many opposing football players already accept as fact—that Jim Brown will be the greatest rusher in the history of the National Football League.

Official NFL figures released today show that the bruising fullback of the Eastern Division—leading Cleveland Browns—is well on his way to setting a rushing record for one season and also has a good shot at a scoring record.

The former Syracuse star has accounted for 635 yards on 94 running attempts in the Browns' four winning efforts this year. That figures out to a 6.8 yard average per carry and a game average of almost 159 yards. The game figure is about 65 yards more than Steve Van Buren averaged when he set the present NFL league rushing record with 1,146 yards for the Philadelphia Eagles in 1949.

Another big reason for the Browns' success is rookie Bob Mitchell whose season total of 370 yards rushing is second best in the league. Mitchell has averaged 8.8 yards for each of his 42 runs. Tom Wilson of Los Angeles is a distant third with 302 yards by running.

Eddie Lebaron of the Washington Redskins, John Brodie of San Francisco and John Unitas of Baltimore continue to head the passers. Lebaron has the best average gain per pass attempt, 9.70 yards. Brodie has the best completion average, 58.8 per cent in 68 attempts. Unitas' passing has accounted for the most yards, 907.

Owner of Widower Creed Loses License in Dope Case

NEW YORK (AP)—State harness racing commissioner George P. Monaghan has revoked the licenses of Thomas H. Loss, of Swanton, Ohio, and Harry Johnson, of Shelbyville, Ind.

Monaghan took the action Tuesday on the basis of state laboratory tests which showed that a saliva sample taken from the harness race horse Widower Creed showed presence of a drug.

Loss was the owner and Johnson the groom of Widower Creed. The saliva sample was taken from the horse after the $50,000 Trans-America Pace at Yonkers Raceway at suburban Yonkers, N.Y., Sept. 30.

Monaghan ordered that the trainer and driver, Howard P. Beissinger, of Hamilton, Ohio, be suspended until the end of the New York harness racing season at Yonkers Nov. 25.

Beissinger was cleared of any part in the doping, and was penalized only on the ground of neglect.

Top-Ranked Teams All Know 'Giant-Killers' Just Itching

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
How secure did one of those fabled Western gunslingers feel with a few notches on his shootin' airn? Ask any of the top football teams. Someone is always waiting to gain a "rep" by knocking them off.

This is not a spontaneous thing. A team begins its plotting over the weekend with scouting reports and movies, then goes into the operations stage with the first practice session.

Let's look in on the practice fields of teams playing some of the nation's top teams this week. At Pittsburgh, where top-ranked Army meets Pitt Saturday, Panther Coach Johnny Michelosen is trying to stop a siege of fumbleitis that has hampered a Pitt attack. He is also sharpening up a passing attack led by Ivan Tomic and Bill Kaliden to exploit a weakness the Cadets showed in beating Virginia last Saturday.

Wisconsin Coach Milt Bruhn, looking toward Ohio State (No. 2) Saturday, expects tackles Dan Laphear and Jim Heinecke to be off the injury list. The first two teams worked only lightly after being by Iowa Saturday for their first loss.

The Rice Owls, playing fourth-ranked Texas Saturday night, worked only lightly and watched films of last year's Texas game. Guard Charley Knight, on the injured list, was pronounced available for the game.

Maryland Coach Tommy Mont made wholesale changes in his second and third teams as he strived to get some depth for his game with fifth-ranked Auburn. Winless Arkansas, playing sixth-ranked Mississippi, studied films of its loss to Texas while Coach Frank Broyles moved Glenn Throckmorton into the right tackle spot replacing Eddie Walker, who moved to right guard.

Northwestern's (No. 8) first-stringers exercised lightly, then were excused as they began prepping for seventh-ranked Iowa. The Hawkeyes ran through a signal drill, while Kansas State went through a long drill, without contact work, to correct glaring errors in its 32-8 loss to Missouri. K-State plays ninth-ranked Oklahoma.

South Carolina has a Thursday dtax with Clemson (No. 10) and went throughout its final heavy contact work, emphasizing pass defense against Clemson quarterback Harvey White.

16 Survivors Remain In Senior Tournament

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—Sixteen survivors moved into the second round of the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament today after a first round marked by upper bracket victories for medalist Thomas Robbins of Pinehurst and venerable Chick Evans.

Robbins, whose three under par 69 gave him the medal Monday, romped past P. J. Farley of Grand Rapids, Mich., 6 and 5, in his first match play test.

Evans, winner of both the U.S. Open and Amateur titles 42 years ago, prevailed by the same score over George Henderson of Pittsburgh.

Pro Cage Benefit Yields $10,121 For Ailing Player

CINCINNATI (AP)—Officials of the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Assn. today were to take a check for $10,121.40 to Maurice Stokes, the team's former star rebounder.

Stokes never has been more than partly conscious since being stricken with a brain disease last March. He has been hospitalized since that time.

Tuesday night four teams of the NBA—the Royals, the St. Louis Hawks, the Boston Celtics and the Detroit Pistons—played a benefit double-header here to help raise money to pay Stokes' mounting hospital and medical bills.

All four teams donated their services and all receipts, less taxes, went to Stokes.

Lions and Tigers To Meet

Top Spot in SCO at Stake In Game Here Friday Night

When the deadly rivals, the lion and the tiger, clash for the title "king of the jungle" no holds are barred.

Friday night the Tigers of Greenfield and the Lions of Washington C. H. will meet in Gardner Park in the game that could decide the 1958 Southern Ohio League championship. Both teams will enter the contest with clean SCO league slates.

The Lions who have displayed one of the most vaunted offenses in the state, will go up against a Tiger defense that has allowed two touchdowns in six games. The Lions have rolled up 264 points in six games.

One bubble will burst Friday night. Either the Tiger defense will crack or the Lion offense will bog down.

If past games are any indication, the score of this one will be low; for the Lions also have a good defense to throw up against the Tigers, who have won four games but tied two.

The Greenfielders have not given up a touchdown in three league

Farm Future Discussed by Ag Committee

2 Major Meetings Scheduled and Dates Set for Them

Members of the Fayette County Agronomy Committee, at their meeting Tuesday evening in the Farm Bureau auditorium, set up a couple of important agronomy meetings for the winter and discussed future agronomy problems.

The first will be Monday evening, Dec. 15. It will be for the farmers who were cooperators and demonstrators in the agronomy program this year. They will be asked to make their reports. This will be in the nature of a summary meeting. Leo Fisher, who attended the World Plowing Contest in Germany, will show pictures of the trip.

On Monday evening, Jan. 19, a program will be built around the subject "Minimum Tillage," for farm crops. J. A. Slipper, extension soil conservationist from Ohio State University and John Moore, Madison County extension agent, will be invited to appear on the program. Both of these men have assisted in demonstrations on minimum tillage, particularly for corn. They will have slides showing the results of their demonstrations.

IN DISCUSSING some of the future developments in agronomy, which is the science of crop production and soil management, they indicated that farmers would see considerable higher yields of corn, brought about by increased fertilizer, high fertility programs on the various farms, increased use of improved hybrids and better varieties of grain crops.

Better tillage methods, better chemical weed control and some shift in rotations to more grain crops, were predicted.

County Extension Agent W. W. Montgomery figures showing the acreage and yields of crops in Fayette County since 1900. They indicated that continued trends of larger farms and bigger farm implements capable of speeding up farm production will take place in the future.

THEY ALSO showed the possible fallacy that, with present huge farm surpluses, there is a paradox of producing more for less. However, in order to maintain overhead costs with lower farm prices, they showed increased individual farm efficiency will have to be maintained.

The following nominating committee was named: Clarence Cooper, chairman, David Carr, and Harold Mark. Election of new officers and directors will take place at the Jan. 19 meeting.

These farmers were listed as having participated in the 1958 agronomy demonstrations in the county: Harold Mark, Frank Solars, Jesse Crago, Robert Pero, Gerald Straley, Richard Snyder, Rex Bloomer, Robert Milburn, Wilbur Neff, Willard Perrill, Alvin Sexton, Charles Cook, William B. Dunn, Edward Bower, Robert Coffman, and Barton Montgomery. Many of these farmers had two or three demonstrations on their farms.

Open Houses Set For City Schools

The open houses at the Washington C. H. city schools next week will give parents an opportunity to talk with teachers concerning the progress of their children. W. A. Smith, superintendent, said.

Open house will be held at all elementary schools from 7 to 9 p. m. Monday, he said. All elementary schools in the city will be open on Tuesday from 7 to 9 p. m. and high school will be open for parents.

On Sunday, Nov. 2 from 2 to 5 p. m. the public may visit the new classrooms in the city schools as well as the two new Eastside and Belle Aire schools. The new rooms at Cherry Hill and Rose Ave. will be open for the public.

Smith said the dedication of the buildings will be at a later after they are accepted by the board of education.

School Board Members To Attend Meeting

Two members of the Washington C. H. board of education will attend a meeting of the Central Ohio School Boards Assn. in the Ohio State Student Union Thursday evening, W. A. Smith, superintendent, said.

Milbourne Flee and Stanley Dray will hear a panel discussion on "What Should the Board Members' Role Be in Curriculum Development."

Bloomingburg Man In Jail Here after Battling Police

James Cleveland Reed, 34, Bloomingburg, found out the hard way it does not pay to try to choke police officers.

Reed was still in jail Wednesday noon when he was unable to pay the $50 fine imposed in Municipal Court for resisting arrest.

Two officers went to the home of Doris Campbell, 1217 E. Paint St., early Wednesday to arrest Reed, who was accused of creating a disturbance there. Patrolman L. A. Laytard and Rodman Scott quieted him down with force when he tried to choke Scott. They then took Reed to Memorial Hospital for treatment of bruises and small lacerations.

In court Wednesday half of his $50 fine was suspended on the condition he pay the medical bill. Hearing on the disorderly charge was continued to next Tuesday after Reed requested time to obtain a lawyer. Reed is no stranger in Municipal Court having appeared before for failure to yield the right of way, assault, disorderly conduct, writing a check with insufficient funds and intoxication.

Two Forfeit Bonds In Municipal Court

Bonds were forfeited in two traffic cases in Municipal Court Tuesday.

Beatrice Rohling, 20, Blanchester, forfeited a $15 bond on a charge of running a red light at Washington Ave. and Elm St. and Galen D. Wade, 24, Grove City, cited for reckless driving on Clinton Ave. forfeited a $20 bond when he failed to appear to face the charge.

Mainly About People

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Grover, 834 Washington Ave., were weekend guests in Jackson's Mill, W. Va., to attend the Young Men and Women Assn. conference for older youth. Mr. Grover was in charge of the Sunday morning worship service. Of the 376 there, 157 were from Ohio. They returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Williamson, Greenfield, are announcing the birth of a son in Greenfield Hospital Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Williamson are the grandparents.

Miss Anna Varlas, 120 Forest St., represented the Fayette County Automobile Club at the Ohio State Travel Counselors School held at Lincoln Lodge, Columbus, Oct. 20-21.

Carl Joseph is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Sheatcraft, Route 1, London, for their son born Saturday in Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spetnagel and sons, Joe, George and Bobby, of Albuquerque, N. M., are visiting with Mrs. Spetnagel's mother Mrs. W. R. Hook, 128 S. North St.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Zwald, Sabina, have chosen the name, James Alan, for their son born in Memorial Hospital Friday.

PUCO Opens Hearings on New Bell Rate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Utilities Commission has opened public hearings on Ohio Bell Telephone Co.'s 28 million dollar rate increase request.

At the same time there were indications Ohio Bell and cities fighting the proposed increase may still settle the dispute by negotiation.

At Tuesday's opening hearing Ashley M. Van Duzer, company counsel, told the commission that Ohio Bell earnings are lower than those of other major telephone companies and that expenses have been increasing faster than earnings since the company got a $7-633,750 rate increase Dec. 31, 1954.

Gordon N. Thayer, company vice president in charge of operations, said the company will not be able to expand its services unless it gets more revenue. He said the company has been forced to economize on expenses.

Representatives of the cities fighting the rate increase request made brief opening remarks in which they agreed that the company is entitled to some increase but not nearly as much as they are requesting.

Ferd Pickins, Columbus utilities director and head of the committee of city representatives, made arrangements with the Utilities Commission to have the hearings continued to a later date if and when the cities and the company resume independent negotiations.

No meeting is scheduled and previous negotiations have been unsuccessful.

Company officials interpreted his request as a sign that there will be further negotiations.

Law Is Ready To Clamp Down On Halloween Vandals Here

Stern warnings were issued by authorities Wednesday morning after several Halloween pranks were reported to police.

County Juvenile Probation Officer Joe McMullen said: "If the vandalism persists, the 10:30 p. m. curfew for boys and girls under 17 years old may be enforced." The curfew is a city ordinance.

Depending on the degree of the act, fines may be levied against youths brought before the Juvenile Court, he said. McMullen added that the Juvenile Court will cooperate to the fullest extent with the Police Department.

Police Chief D. Vaiden Long said Wednesday morning that the acts of vandalism will not be taken as pranks, but as actual destruction of property.

Tearing off radio aerials mounted on cars was the most frequent offense reported to police. William Cotner, 732 E. Market St., said an aerial was broken from the rear of his car parked on S. Fayette St.

Mrs. Howard Merritt, 629 S. Main St., said the aerial was taken from her car parked in the driveway.

Emerson Warner, 212 S. North St., reported the other ruined aerial.

The other acts involved overturned outbuildings. Oscar Redman, 719 Forest St., said one of his buildings was upset about 8 p. m. Tuesday. Virgil Willis, 702 Rose Ave., reported a building on his property upset.

Parking Accident

Phillip D. Sanders, 17, of 212 Grand Ave., told police he misjudged the distance while trying to park on the 100 block of N. Fayette St. when his car hit the parked car of Robert Fichthorn, Route 3 at 8:50 p. m. Tuesday. The report said the bumper on the Fichthorn car was scratched.

Law Is Ready To Clamp Down On Halloween Vandals Here

Stern warnings were issued by authorities Wednesday morning after several Halloween pranks were reported to police.

County Juvenile Probation Officer Joe McMullen said: "If the vandalism persists, the 10:30 p. m. curfew for boys and girls under 17 years old may be enforced." The curfew is a city ordinance.

Depending on the degree of the act, fines may be levied against youths brought before the Juvenile Court, he said. McMullen added that the Juvenile Court will cooperate to the fullest extent with the Police Department.

Police Chief D. Vaiden Long said Wednesday morning that the acts of vandalism will not be taken as pranks, but as actual destruction of property.

Tearing off radio aerials mounted on cars was the most frequent offense reported to police, William Cotner, 732 E. Market St., said an aerial was broken from the rear of his car parked on S. Fayette St.

Mrs. Howard Merritt, 629 E. Main St., said the aerial was taken from her car parked in the driveway.

Emerson Warner, 212 S. North St., reported the other ruined aerial.

The other acts involved overturned outbuildings, Oscar Redman, 719 Forest St., said one of his buildings was upset about 8 p. m. Tuesday. Virgil Willis, 702 Rose Ave., reported a building on his property upset.

Parking Accident

Phillip D. Sanders, 17, of 212 Grand Ave., told police he misjudged the distance while trying to park on the 100 block of N. Fayette St. when his car hit the parked car of Robert Fichthorn, Route 3 at 8:50 p. m. Tuesday. The report said the bumper on the Fichthorn car was scratched.
